ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

SCHOOL COMMITTEE

OF THE

Town of Weymouth, Mass.

1919

REPORT OF THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

To the Citizens of Weymouth:

The most remarkable feature of the past year is the fact that Weymouth has been able to keep its teaching force practically intact, and to fill such vacancies as occurred without great delay, although with considerable difficulty. With the prospect of a large number of schools throughout the eastern part of the country entirely or partly closed for lack of teachers, we may be glad that our teachers have not generally sought more remunerative employment, elsewhere, as teachers, or in other employment, as opportunity therefor offered.

Without question, the passage of Chapter 363 of the Acts of 1919 by the General Court, an act providing for graded refunds to be made by the Commonwealth from the proceeds of the income tax to the cities and towns on account of teachers' salaries, made it everywhere imperative that the salaries be substantially increased, not only to allay the increasing discontent all over the state, but also to receive the full benefit of the act.

Commencing, therefore, with last September, the teachers' salaries in this town were increased at an annual rate approximately that to be received from the General Treasurer. The sum thus received by the town in November was in excess of $11,000., the increase made in September added a little more than $4,000. to the school expense for the year. This sum, together with the extra large coal supply purchased during the year, brought about the deficit, which was foreseen because it was inevitable, coming in December. This deficit was recognized as proper by the Appropriation Committee, and duly provided for. The sum to be expected from the General Treasurer during November of the coming year under Chap. 363 will probably be in excess of $16,000., a sum much larger than the town would otherwise receive from the Income Tax if no refunds on teachers' salaries were made.

Repairs to school buildings have been carried out consistently. Some improvements have been made, some have been postponed, because of unexpected needs for repairs. On the whole the condition of the school buildings has been constantly improving during the last few years.

In discussing needs for the coming year special attention should be paid to the congestion in North Weymouth. More school rooms must presently be provided, whether in the immediate vicinity of the Athens school or in some other locality nearer the bridge. In either case, more land will be needed. The committee has therefore inserted articles in the warrant so that the whole matter may be brought before the town meeting.

It may not appear expedient at this time to undertake the construction of a new school house, but there should be no delay in securing the land for it. Two portable school houses may possibly be able to take care of the increase in North Weymouth for more than a year or two, but at the present rate, not for long. Two such buildings can be erected and equipped for $6,000., and after serving in one locality, can, without great expense, be used elsewhere. Such buildings have proved to be the best means for meeting emergencies. The expense of such portables would be less than the interest on the amount of money to be borrowed to build a permanent structure, which necessarily or usually is built larger than immediate needs call for.

One other matter that will come up at town meeting will be the question of further increase in teachers' pay. With the month of January a very few salaries were increased, but all were in cases where the necessity was open to no doubt, or good faith demanded it.

This town has no reason to be ashamed of the way it has met the salary question when the same has been fairly presented to it. The increase, as we are informed now to be asked for in town meeting, will be in effect a flat increase of $200 a year for about 80 individuals. If such increase is to be adopted commencing as of January 1, it will mean an addition of over $16,000 to the regular estimate as exhibited below.

Although it cannot fairly be said that the amounts annually to be received from the General Treasurer will serve to cover any and all increases in teachers' pay, it cannot be denied that if the act of last year had not been passed teachers' salaries would have to be increased in any event. The passage of this act simply brought the question to an issue sooner, and no town or city can escape the fact that the larger part of such increases comes directly from its own pocket. It is fair to say, however, that if we grant the desired increases, we will be doing what most of the cities and towns are doing, have done, or are about to do.

Through the good efforts of the Red Cross it is expected that presently we shall have the services of the entire time of a nurse specially trained in school work, and much good should result therefrom. The expense for this will be borne for at least one full year by the Red Cross.

In the estimate below the sums opposite Instructors and Janitors represent the actual annual pay roll as it exists to-day, with the exception that at writing one vacancy therein exists, presently to be filled, and with an allowance for one new teacher for the next school year. It is certain that one, and probable that two, new teachers will be required in September, but the estimate for one teacher for a full year covers two teachers commencing with September. The estimate for fuel, unless freight rates greatly increase, is believed to be sufficient, although it is less than the average cost of fuel for the last three years, and the estimate for supplies is larger than usual on account of advanced prices and depleted supply.

	Expended	Estimated
	1919	for 1920
Superintendent	$2,566.72	$2,700.00
Instructors	73,953.75	87,960.00
Janitors	7,682.41	8,310.00
Fuel	7,679.77	7,500.00
Repairs	4,192.06	5,000.00
Water	472.00	500.00
Supplies	6,195.16	6,500.00
Miscellaneous	1,887.86	2,000.00
Transportation	4,903.75	5,000.00
Evening School	776.50	800.00
Totals	$110,309.98	$126,270.00

The above estimate does not include the amount necessary to meet desired salary increases on the part of the teachers, which matter will be taken up at town meeting, and which will mean an addition of at least $16,000 on a $200 basis if adopted as of January 1; nor is there included any alternative estimate for normal increases in salaries to those who have not yet reached the ordinary maximum, and who are about twenty-five in number in the grades.

There was a small sum from the Nevin school account available for a little grading during the past year, but no opportunity to use this sum effectively presented itself until late in the fall. On the day such work was to be commenced, a sharp freeze set in, and this work was postponed to the spring, and therefore the Town Accountant has been asked to keep this account open.

Respectfully submitted,

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.

Members of the School Committee:—

I herewith submit my eleventh annual report, the same being the thirty-fourth in the series of annual reports of the superintendents of this town.

It is safe to say that in January, 1919, when the estimate for the current year was made, no one foresaw the steady advance in the cost of everything required for the support of the school department. Certainly the School Committee did not ask for sufficient money to cover any increase in salaries or advance in the cost of supplies, fuel and repairs. The estimate, which was closely figured, was based, with a few exceptions, upon the scale of expenditure of the preceding year.

SALARIES.

In June the teachers of the elementary grades petitioned the School Committee for an increase of two hundred dollars, basing their request upon a bill at that time before the General Court to provide for the distribution of a portion of the income tax, and of the income of the Massachusetts school fund, for the purpose of improving the public schools. This bill went into effect on July 24, 1919 and is, in part, as follows:

Section 1. The treasurer and receiver general shall, on or before the fifteenth day of November, nineteen hundred and nineteen, and annually thereafter, set aside from the proceeds of the income tax a sum of money sufficient to provide for the purposes of Part I of this act, and which shall be available therefor without further appropriation by the general court.

Section 2. The treasurer and receiver general shall, as herein provided, distribute said sum on or before the fifteenth day of November, nineteen hundred and nineteen and annually thereafter, to the several cities and towns of the commonwealth as reimbursement, in part, for expenditures for salaries of teachers, supervisors, principals, assistant superintendents, and superintendents of schools, for services rendered in the public day schools during the year ending on the thirtieth day of June next preceding.

Section 3. For each person employed for full-time service for the entire school year as teacher, supervisor, principal, assistant superintendent or superintendent of schools, the city or town shall be reimbursed as follows:—

(1) Two hundred dollars for every such person who has received as salary not less than eight hundred and fifty dollars and who is a graduate of an approved normal school or college and has had at least two years teaching experience or who possesses preparation and teaching experience accepted in lieu thereof.

(2) One hundred and fifty dollars for every such person, not included in the foregoing classification who has received as salary not less than seven hundred and fifty dollars and (a) who has satisfactorily completed one year of professional training in an approved normal school or teachers' training school, and has had at least three years of teaching experience; or (b) is a graduate of an approved normal school or college, and has at least one year of teaching experience; or (c) who possesses preparation and teaching experience accepted in lieu of the foregoing requirements in this paragraph.

(3) One hundred dollars for every such person, not included in either paragraphs (1) or (2), who has received as salary not less than six hundred and fifty dollars.

Section 4. For each teacher, supervisor, principal, assistant superintendent, or superintendent of schools, employed for less than full-time service for the school year, the city or town shall be reimbursed such a fractional part of the corresponding reimbursement for full-time service provided for in section three of this act as that service bore to full-time service: Provided, however, that the person for whom the reimbursement is claimed shall have met the corresponding requirements of certification, if any, specified in section three, and shall have received as salary an amount not less than that fraction of the corresponding salary for full-time service specified in section three. No town in a superintendency union shall, under the provisions of this act, receive reimbursement for the part-time employment of a superintendent of schools if the town is entitled to reimbursement for such employment in accordance with laws relating to superintendency unions.

Under the provisions of this act, the Town received on November 15, 1919, $11,227.25, divided as follows:

Section 3.

(1) Reimbursement, seventeen teachers, $200 each.....	$3,400.00
(2) Reimbursement, thirty-three teachers, $150 each....	4,950.00
(3) Reimbursement, twelve teachers, $100 each.....	1,200.00

Section 4.

Miscellaneous reimbursement	1,677.25
Total reimbursement	$11,227.25

During the summer the School Committee voted to increase the maximum salary for elementary teachers to $1,000 and the maximum salary for High School teachers to $1,200, and asked the Appropriation Committee to set aside money from the Reserve Fund to cover the expense from September to January.

The salary problem is still a perplexing one. Dr. Philander C. Claxton, United States Commissioner of Education, declares that the minimum salary for teachers should be $1,200 per year. Professor George D. Strayer of Columbia University says that six per cent of the schools in the United States are closed for want of teachers, and that $1,200 is no more than an "existing" wage and leaves no margin for savings and for culture.

According to a recent newspaper article, out of 650,000 teachers in the United States, 143,000 last year left the profession, and in four years the graduates of the normal schools decreased thirty per cent. One hundred thousand positions are without teachers or filled with teachers below the standard.

Congress is preparing to expend over a billion and a half for the Army and the Navy during the coming year. All the states of the Union combined are spending less than half of that amount on twenty-four million future citizens. They are expending only about four hundred million dollars on the wages of their school teachers.

An expenditure of a billion and a half dollars means a per capita tax of approximately fifteen dollars. Such a tax levied on the Town of Weymouth for school purposes would net $225,000. In the year closing Dec. 31, 1919 less than half that amount, or $110,000 was expended.

Governor Coolidge in his Inaugural Address makes the following statements regarding education:—

“The main product and sole reliance of this commonwealth is the intelligence of her citizens.

“In our past solicitude for the pupil we have neglected the teacher. In honor and in compensation the profession of teaching is coming to be surpassed by commercial and industrial employment. This has resulted in diminishing the attendance of our normal schools by one-third, and will soon make impossible the securing of trained instructors of our youth. The ancient respect for our schools and for learning cannot be continued unless that respect attach to the persons of those who there teach and lead. The value of education itself is diminished unless it can be received in an attitude of reverence. Unless the teacher amounts to something the pupil will not amount to anything. No talent is too high for education, no price too great for understanding.

“The beginning of the remedy lies in increased compensation for our teaching force. I recommend that this be provided by law. It will be found that the public estimation will follow the public treasure.”

SCHOOL ACCOMMODATIONS.

For a number of years the Athens School has been so crowded that it has been impossible to do standard work in some of the grades. Last year there was an average of forty-seven pupils to a teacher, some of the teachers having more than fifty pupils. To relieve this condition it was decided in September to place the first and second grades on half time and to increase the teaching force by two, giving the principal an assistant, and providing an extra teacher to do special work throughout the building. This plan has relieved conditions temporarily. The first grade teacher now has thirty-nine pupils in the morning session which extends from eight-thirty to eleven forty-five, and forty-one pupils in the afternoon session which extends from twelve-thirty to three forty-five. The second grade teacher has thirty-eight pupils in the morning session and twenty-nine in the afternoon session with the same hours for teaching. Under the new arrangement the average number of pupils per teacher is thirty-nine plus, with forty-eight as the largest number of children in any one room.

At the present time it does not seem to be advisable to build a new schoolhouse with building conditions so uncertain and the cost of materials so high. Possibly a better solution of the problem would be to erect two portable buildings with a seating capacity of forty pupils each. This method of handling crowded conditions is being used temporarily by many towns and cities. A single portable building twenty by forty-five could be erected complete with heating apparatus at a maximum cost of twenty-six hundred dollars. The furniture would entail an additional cost of about four hundred dollars. A two-room portable building could be erected for about forty-two hundred dollars, a saving being made by having a single heating plant for the two rooms. Such a building would not be so servicable, however, as it could not be so readily moved to another location nor could the rooms be used as single units without considerable additional expense.

We shall need additional accommodations at the High School in the near future. Any portables erected at the Athens School can be transferred to the High School grounds as soon as a permanent schoolhouse is built at North Weymouth.

Health conditions in the Athens School are normal although I understand that a few parents are dissatisfied. There are modern toilets for the children. Besides there is a blower in the basement for keeping the air fresh and pure. During the summer the walls of the basement were whitewashed, the woodwork painted and the pipes blackened. Notwithstanding these conditions a complaint was lodged with the State Board of Health which resulted in an agent being sent out to investigate. He reported that there was no ground for complaint; the building was clean and in good condition.

In East Weymouth a number of the grades are crowded, but the Franklin Building provides abundant opportunity for expansion.

In Weymouth it was necessary to use the whole of the Old Hunt School to provide accommodations.

In South Weymouth all of the rooms in the Nevin School are now being used. An additional teacher was added to the force in September to help teach the fourth and seventh grades. After a careful investigation of the number of pupils who would attend the Hollis School, it was decided to close the building and transfer the children to the Nevin School. Eight pupils in the first and second grades are now being transported from Randolph Street.

EVENING SCHOOLS.

The evening schools, which opened October 24, 1919, have been better attended than were the evening schools of last year. We now have forty-three taking Sewing under Mrs. Ahearn, nineteen in the evening class at the High School, ten in the afternoon class at the High School and fourteen in the afternoon class at the Nevin School.

In Millinery Miss Knight has an evening class at the High School of twenty-one and Mrs. Kelley has an evening class of eleven at the Nevin School. It will probably be necessary to open an additional evening class in Millinery in January.

In the evening Business Department there are fifty-one enrolled; twenty in the Bookkeeping Department and thirty-one taking Stenography and Typewriting.

A class in Americanization was maintained for fifty-five nights, from May 21, 1919 to October 24, 1919 at the American Agricultural Chemical Works, North Weymouth. The company furnished a room in one of its buildings and the School Department furnished the teacher. Thirteen Lithuanians enrolled. The work was of the most elementary character, as some of the men could neither read nor write their own language. These men showed much interest in the work and made rapid progress. The work was somewhat hampered in view of the fact that a part of the men were out for night work on alternate weeks.

Next year, if the Committee cares to take advantage of the provisions of an act to promote Americanization through the education of adult persons unable to use the English language, the State will pay one-half of the expense.

GARDEN AND CLUB WORK.

REPORT OF SARAH E. BRASSILL, DIRECTOR OF GARDEN WORK.

Because interest at this time centers in questions of cost and value, I am sending my report in the form of a statement of the gains and honors that have come to Weymouth pupils through the garden work during the year.

Lessons in selecting seed, in preparing and planting a garden, in cultivating and harvesting crops, in storing vegetables for the winter, in weed and insect enemies to crops and in miscellaneous allied topics that came up, have been given in all seventh, eighth and ninth grades. Written lessons have shown how much of this has been learned, but the practical application of the teaching depends on the home conditions and needs. We know that two hundred forty-seven small gardens have been cared for by pupils unaided. Many other pupils have helped in the family garden. There have been twenty-nine gardens of one-tenth of an acre or more.

The State Board of Agriculture allowed our Weymouth Agricultural and Industrial Society two hundred dollars for use in premiums. One-half of that sum was given by the society to the children. At the fair in the autumn, the children displayed two hundred eighty-seven plates of produce (there were one hundred seventy-five plates in the adult display). We think that the quality of the children's vegetables equaled that of the adults, indeed in some cases children's products that failed to win a prize were better than some to which prizes were given on the other side of the hall. This one hundred dollars is to be added to the value of the vegetables shown in estimating the gain to the children. Products grown and not shown are roughly estimated at five hundred dollars. Inspection of the gardens during the year made it reasonably certain that the display was genuine and the estimate correct. Products gathered up at Weymouth and sent on to the New England States Fair at Worcester received second prize there. A "team" of two Weymouth boys won first place in Norfolk county in garden demonstration, were sent on to Worcester as County Champions to compete with boys from other counties, won the State Championship there and were invited to Camp Vail at the Eastern States Exposition for a week in camp, there to measure up with teams from nine other states. Our boys rank third in demonstration in the Eastern States. One of these boys was in the team that won fourth place in judging vegetables. A Weymouth boy stood first in Norfolk County in market gardening and the same boy will—quite probably—be sent to Washington this spring as the winner of highest honors in the state. A week in camp at Amherst was the reward for the county honors. In the "club" to which these boys belong there are several members who are doing exceptionally good work.

Weymouth boys and girls have raised sixty-seven pigs dressing from ninety to two hundred twenty-five pounds at an average cost of fourteen cents a pound. This represents about four tons of pork and a value of over one thousand dollars at a low estimate, one-third of which sum may be counted as gain. We have in Weymouth the boy who stands first in the county in the "Pig Club." He also spent a week at Amherst. We exhibited our stock at Brockton Fair and won four first prizes, three second prizes and two third prizes. A Weymouth boy won second place and a ten dollar prize in judging pigs there.

We have a calf club of six members, two of whom are a "demonstration team" and are county, state and Eastern States champions, holding the gold medals awarded at Springfield. One of these boys brought home from there a thoroughbred registered heifer won in the judging contest and worth then one hundred twenty-five dollars. The same boy holds a twenty-five dollar scholarship won at Brockton in judging and a Weymouth boy won first place and a seventy-five dollar scholarship at the same time.

The Home Economics Clubs had thirty-four members who make either garments or bread. Fifty-two garments and eight hundred fifty loaves of bread are part of the work they have done. One of the garment makers was among the best in the county and spent two days with other "best workers" at Amherst. Our bread making team are county champions and hold second place in the state. They spent two days at Camp Vail, and they have been invited to demonstrate at Walpole, at Worcester and in Boston. Six members of these clubs are now leading clubs of their own.

Our canning club members have put up five thousand jars of fruit and vegetables worth one thousand two hundred fifty dollars. Not all of this is gain, but much of it represents value that would otherwise be lost.

Our poultry club is taking high rank. Members exhibited by invitation, at the Boston Poultry Show, and won awards on everything shown; poultry, eggs, equipment, feeds, photographs of plants and demonstration. We have the special prize awarded to the boy making the best all-round display. We furnished the Norfolk County demonstration team and one of the two county judging teams and won third place with each among ten and sixteen contestants.

We are sending into the agricultural course in the High School some of our brightest young people,—and borrowing back a few of these to help in the club work.

If it is true that he is a benefactor who makes two blades of grass grow where one grew, then these young people are among those who deserve praise and encouragement.

AGRICULTURE.

REPORT OF CHARLES W. KEMP, DIRECTOR OF AGRICULTURE.

It is impossible for me to report on the year's work with any degree of accuracy prior to September, when I returned to take up the work in Weymouth once more.

There are nineteen enrolled in the department, all coming from the town of Weymouth with one exception, and that boy from Cohasset.

I am following the outline of studies as furnished me by the County School at Walpole, which covers the following subjects:

First year—Agricultural survey and vegetable gardening.

Second year—Poultry husbandry, fruit, swine.

Third year—Dairying, feeds and feeding, soil fertility and farm crops.

Fourth year—Farm management, advanced poultry husbandry and advanced market gardening.

Most of the boys have started on a project with varying degrees of success, which is to be expected, but in each case much practical knowledge is being gained which is the main object in view.

Eleven boys have poultry and gardening projects.

Four boys have dairy and gardening projects.

Two boys have gardening projects.

Two boys will work on a farm as a substitute for a home project.

One boy deserves special credit for work done in connection with the club work during the year, i.e.: exhibiting at the Weymouth Fair, demonstrating and judging at the Eastern States Exposition at Springfield, judging and exhibiting at the Brockton Fair and judging and exhibiting at the Boston Poultry Show.

The boy in question is Adrian Barnes of South Weymouth and the prizes won are too numerous to mention here, but would total something over two hundred dollars in value.

The boys are showing a real live interest in the work and I hope that the coming year will show much progress in the department.

MANUAL TRAINING.

REPORT OF MISS ALICE L. TUCKER, SUPERVISOR OF MANUAL TRAINING.

The main purpose of this course is to teach the boy the need for thought, accuracy and care, and to correlate hand, eye and brain. In manual training, as in other subjects, it is most essential that the child start right. He must at the beginning learn to use his tools correctly and to master several important tool processes. For this reason, a certain amount of prescribed work is presented involving such fundamental operations as seem necessary for the best development. The models are arranged in progressive sequence with regard to exercise and tools.

Before making a model, the boy is required to draw a plan from which he works. When the article is finished, if the worker cares for it he pays the cost price. The boys are interested in their work and practically everything is bought by them.

In all the grades, the fast workers are allowed to make extra articles involving the same exercises as the models in the regular course. The ninth grade have work in simple joinery, and, after finishing the first three models in the course, each boy who shows ability is given an opportunity to make furniture.

The seventh grade course included hat racks, bread boards, broom holders, plant stands; the eighth grade, necktie racks, scouring boards, blotters and a choice of one or more of the following: Nail boxes, knife, fork and spoon boxes, salt boxes, bird houses, or clock cases; the ninth grade, kitchen racks, picture frames, tabourets, pen trays, foot stools.

In addition to the above were made milking stools, sleeve boards, medicine cabinets, sewing screens, library tables, telephone stands, chests, magazine racks, a writing desk, and a double runner.

SEWING.

REPORT OF MISS HELEN ROWELL, SUPERVISOR OF SEWING.

At the time the report was written last year the Sewing in the schools had barely commenced; so last year's report was more of an outline of the work to be accomplished. At this time one year's work has been completed and another year's work begun with satisfactory results, and it is hoped that this coming year will increase both the quantity and quality of work.

The seventh grades last year were beginners in Sewing and so their task was to learn the different stitches and seams which form a foundation for all hand sewing. Sewing bags, that were suitable for school use, were first made by the girls. To complete the sewing outfit they next made pin balls, needle books, and scissors cases, and to make these more attractive, designs made in Drawing were applied. In order to help with the household sewing the girls learned to make pillow cases, and one class was far enough advanced to hemstitch theirs. To finish the year's work the girls made dish towels that were stamped with an appropriate design, and a simple embroidery stitch was learned and used in applying the design.

The study of cotton cloth was taken up rather extensively as it has such an important bearing upon the problem of the future housewives. With outside help the girls were able to trace cotton from its planting and growth, through the processes of preparation and manufacture, to the stores and to their own homes, where many kinds of cloth were found. By comparing various samples brought in to school, the quality, use, and approximate cost of the common cotton cloths was discovered and later applied to their own sewing.

Last year the eighth and ninth grades were practically at the same stage of advancement, since they had each had nearly the same work; but as time went on the ninth grade girls were capable of advancing a little faster than the others. As a review of the sewing previously done in both grades the girls first made knitting or laundry bags.

The eighth grade work is a continuation of hand sewing and the beginning of the use of the sewing machine, and it is here that the girls begin to make their own wearing apparel. Chemises, or princess slips were made, and every part was done by the girls from the cutting to the final putting in of ribbons. Different kinds of seams, methods of putting on ruffles, and various ways of trimming were learned. The girls decided upon the most suitable kind of cloth for their purpose and in many cases they were allowed to purchase the cloth themselves, thereby gaining valuable experience in selecting and buying materials. When the chemises were done, the work was continued by making other garments, as petticoats, drawers, bloomers, night gowns, and aprons. The girls of the ninth grades progressed faster and were able to do more work and work of a better quality than the younger girls in the eighth grades.

Stocking darning was done in all grades and since it is such a practical accomplishment is to be continued through every class this coming year. It is hoped that by the time girls are through the Elementary schools they will be skillful along this line.

To increase the knowledge of common household textiles, the growth, preparation, and manufacture of linen was studied. As in the work with cotton, the girls learned to distinguish various kinds and qualities of linen, and to know their uses; and also they were able to apply simple tests for adulteration of linen, which will aid them in selecting goods all their lives.

At the Athens School in North Weymouth, there is an organized Junior Red Cross Chapter, and with the money raised by the pupils the sewing classes there bought and made garments for the Red Cross. By a special arrangement, the articles made were given to the Weymouth District Nurse to be used at her discretion where they were most needed in the various parts of the town. The articles made were three large woolen shawls or blankets, one complete layette, five dozen diapers, ten flannel nightshirts for babies, two cotton nightshirts and a woolen bathrobe for an invalid boy. The girls deserve especial credit for their generosity and willingness to do this work for those less fortunate than themselves.

At the close of the school year in June there was an exhibition of sewing done by the girls of the Elementary Schools, at the High School graduation exercises. To this exhibition each girl brought one article she had made as a fair sample of her ability. In this way the townspeople had an opportunity to see what was being accomplished by the school girls, and it is hoped that during the year the mothers and friends can visit the sewing classes to see what their own girls and other girls are doing.

It might be interesting to know about how much work was done by the girls last year. They made 132 sewing bags, 122 sets of pin balls, needle books, and scissors cases, 109 pillow cases, 112 towels, 132 chemises, 41 petticoats, 35 aprons, 10 pairs of drawers, 25 bloomers, and 29 nightgowns, besides 150 bags for the Red Cross to give the soldiers.

At the beginning of this school year the seventh grades commenced their sewing classes with practically the same work as last year's seventh grades, and sewing bags were started. The eighth grades commenced sewing aprons, and the ninth grades petticoats. The work thus far has progressed rapidly and the girls have shown good results as far as they have gone.

After the Thanksgiving vacation, the girls started to make Christmas gifts and they have worked industriously and well. This is the first opportunity in two years that these girls have had to do work of this sort because in previous years their time has been devoted to war work. Some of the gifts made are skirt hangers, vanity bags, traveling cases, silk fancy work bags, hatpin holders, sachet bags, iron holders, sewing and kitchen aprons.

A very cordial invitation is extended to all mothers and friends to come to the sewing classes with suggestions, so that the work may be made as practical as possible and the school and home sewing may be more closely related.

DRAWING.

REPORT OF MISS EVELYN SYLVESTER, SUPERVISOR OF DRAWING.

Throughout the schools we have used a general course of study planned to raise the standard of work which was nearly lost during the year when there was no supervision. Things are now well under way though there is still opportunity for improvement.

Beginning this school year the course for the primary grades is the same as last year as the teachers asked to have the work repeated. But from the fourth grade up changes and rearrangements are being made in order to confine the study of certain types of work more definitely to certain grades.

Some fundamental color work is being given in the fifth and sixth grades and with it some elementary design. The first principles of perspective are also taught in those grades. Perspective as a real study is confined to grades seven and eight. Design work is given here, too, which is, of course, slightly in advance of that in the lower grades. In grade nine comes the real effort in design, starting with the fall nature study and from that deriving conventionalized forms and units suitable for design purposes; then applying those units for border designs and pattern design. In this grade should be found greater development and appreciation of color.

In connection with the study of Art in any of its forms, some reference material is necessary in order to develop a standard of appreciation. Nature is Art in its most beautiful form and for that reason we study flowers, birds, trees, snow crystals and so forth. Flowers and trees are easily found, but to supply our need for birds we had a gift of a collection of stuffed birds for the Nevin School and then purchased additional collections for the other large buildings, and bird charts for the smaller buildings. With these we created real interest, not only in the form and color of the birds, but their use to the farmer and their habits, and so made the subject more vital.

There were a number of collections of vases, bowls, teapots and flower pots purchased for the study of object drawing. Also we bought some illustrative sheets showing various ways of rendering such objects on paper.

One other valuable addition to our stock of reference material is a supply of alphabet sheets which serve as guides for printing titles, monograms, mottoes, etc.

The spirit of co-operation and support from the superintendent and among the teachers and pupils has been of great assistance to me and has been very much appreciated. It has made my work a pleasure.

There is one thing I wish might show more rapid improvement, and that is the accuracy and niceness of finish in the work everywhere and we will work to accomplish that this year.

HIGH SCHOOL.

Conditions in the High School are practically the same as they were last year. Owing to the demand for labor because of the war, the number of pupils in the High School has, for the past two years, been less than normal. Indications, however, now point to an increase in the number of pupils attending all the upper grades of our school system. The laws governing the employment of minors, particularly those under sixteen, are becoming more and more stringent. In consequence of these laws, more children will be obliged to remain in school. Any great increase in the number of pupils will make additional accommodations imperative.

The number of teachers in the school is now sixteen, a teacher of typewriting having been added this year. There have been five changes in the teaching force. After an absence of one year, Mr. Kemp was induced to return to the agricultural department, to succeed Mr. Schwab, who resigned to take up farming as a business. Mr. Hollis, who for many years had served as principal of the grammar school in South Weymouth was placed in charge of the commercial department. Miss Berry and Miss Mayer were appointed to fill the places left vacant through the resignations of Miss Card and Miss Perry.

In the summer the walls of the basement, including the lunch room, were whitewashed and the woodwork painted. The outside of the building was painted. One boiler was retubed. During the coming year it will be necessary to retube the other large boiler and the ventilating boiler. Some provision should also be made for placing fire-proof ceilings in parts of the basement, and for tinting the walls and ceilings of the rooms in the upper stories of the building, many of which have not been touched since the building was finished twenty-two years ago.

SCHOOL NURSE.

The local Red Cross Association has offered to furnish a nurse for the schools for the coming year. She will act under the direction of the school physicians and will probably spend one day per week in each of the five parts of the town. Cards have been prepared for keeping a continuous record of the physical condition of the children.

TRAINING TEACHERS.

In June arrangements were made with the Normal School at Bridgewater to furnish practice teachers to the Nevin, Hunt and Humphrey Schools. These teachers assist the principals and do special work in any of the crowded grades. Each teacher gives her services for a period of thirteen weeks, her work being under the direct supervision of a critic teacher of the Normal School.

It was impossible to get a training teacher for the Athens School owing to the length of time it takes to reach the building from the Normal School.

SUPPLIES AND TEXT BOOKS.

An examination of the financial statement shows that during the year more money than usual was expended for supplies and text books. This is due in part to the fact that during the course of the war all expenditures were kept at as low a point as possible. As a consequence many of the text books had become so worn that it was necessary to replace them.

In June a thorough inspection of all the books in town was made. Those that were unfit for further use were replaced by new books, the others were repaired. A few sets of new supplementary readers were ordered and sufficient geographies to complete the introduction of the Brigham and McFarlane series. During the last four years the cost of text books has increased from thirty to fifty per cent. The cost of supplies has increased from one to two hundred per cent. It can be easily seen from these figures that the amount of money appropriated for text books and supplies must be increased.

A comparison of the above table with last year's account shows that the school children deposited $1,533.20 more in 1919 than in 1918. The total of $5,291.52 is the largest that has been made in any single year since the Savings Department was started.

In addition to the school deposits a large number of thrift stamps were purchased. I am not able to give the exact amount as no accurate record has been kept during the year.

The Washington School has made the best showing if we take into account the number of pupils in the building.

In conclusion, I wish to thank the committee, the teachers and the community for their cordial support through the year.

Respectfully submitted,

PARKER T. PEARSON,

Superintendent of Schools.

ODE TO CLASS OF 1919

Words by David Bartlett Joy

In the valley of time flows onward
A river mighty and strong,
Filled with man's fears and longings,
With his laughter and his song.
Borne along by the strength of its current,
A part of that ceaseless flow,
In our craft of frail construction,
On the voyage of life we go.

We taste both of joy and sorrow
In the air of this fair June day,—
Sorrow for scenes we are leaving,
But joy for the broad'ning way.
Though the past is gone forever,
Its mem'ries will always abide,
With its visions of comrades and teachers,
As along that stream we glide.

As we gaze at the dark, deep waters,
We know not what they contain,—
Mayhap of power and glory,
Mayhap of failure and pain.
But waving high at our masthead
Is a banner streaming with light,
As a sign to all who may greet us,
We are starting our voyage aright.

Then on, to the unknown future,
With no fear of rock or shoal;
For 'tis God who stands at the rudder;
He will pilot us safe to the goal.

A white card is given to each child between nine and twelve years of age if the application is signed by a trustee of the library.

Teachers and students are given cards which permit the taking of ten or more books, other than adult fiction, for twenty-eight days.

The vacation privilege allows a borrower to take several books, not recent publications, for an extended time.

All books from the circulating department, even the new fiction, may be kept for fourteen days. Recent numbers of magazines are limited to seven days with no renewal.

A book cannot be transferred from one card to another, but may be renewed by mail or *telephone, unless stamped THIS BOOK CANNOT BE RENEWED. The shelf number or title of the book and the borrower's name should be stated when the request for renewal is made.

A fine of two cents a day will be incurred for each day's detention of a book after it is due. When a book is sent for by the librarian it will be at the expense of the borrower.

Collections of 11,511 books have been deposited with 8 schools, including 1 Sunday school. Both teachers and pupils express their warm appreciation of the privileges accorded them. While the teachers have borrowed only 622 books on the Teacher's special cards books, for their individual use, have been included in the collections sent to the schools.

On the 74 Student's cards issued during the year, 1421 volumes borrowed. Vacation cards, upon which 158 books were loaned, were enjoyed by 8 borrowers.

The privileges accorded the borrowers by means of these cards are stated in the Information pages which precede the body of this report.

Since the beginning of the third registration, in 1909, the applications for borrowers' cards number 5,137; 430 of which were made during 1919. This is 112 more than in the previous year.

Our records show that 46 books were lost—most of these were badly worn children's books; 6 were paid for by the borrowers; 15 books were burned on account of contagious diseases; 134 books were discarded because unfit for circulation; 2 books previously reported lost were found.

Because of the illness of a member of the staff, an inventory has been taken this year of biography and fiction only.

Many of the larger libraries no longer attempt to take a complete inventory each year, as it consumes too much of the time which is needed in the regular work. A part of the book shelves is checked by the shelf list each year, until in two or three years, an inventory is completed, without undue effort.

The total number of accessions at the close of the year was 35,929, of which 712, including 106 replacements, 64 gifts, and 84 bound periodicals, were added in 1919. There were 307 volumes rebound, and many books repaired at the Library, of which no exact record can be kept. This work increases year by year.

The books added to the Library in 1919, with the exception of duplicates, replacements, and gifts, are listed in Appendix B—Books purchased from Special Funds.

The number of books in the reference department was increased by the following additions: American year book, 1918; Boston directory, for the year commencing July 1, 1919; Resident and business directory of Weymouth, Massachusetts, 1919-1920; Encyclopedia of religion and ethics, ed. by James Hastings, and others (v. 10); Index to poetry and recitations, ed. by Edith Granger (revised and enlarged edition, 1918); Massachusetts—Journal of the House of Representatives, 1918; Journal of the Senate, 1918; Manual of the General Court, 1919; General acts, 1918; Special acts and resolves, 1918; New Hazell annual and almanack, 1919; New International year book, 1918; Guide to the best historical novels and tales by Nield; Readers' guide to periodical literature [cumulated] v. 4, 1915-1918, ed. by E. J. Sherwood and E. E. Painter; † Standard dictionary of facts; † Standard question book and home study outlines [Founded on "The Standard dictionary of facts,"]; Statesman's year-book, 1918, 1919; Tennyson dictionary, by A. E. Baker; Waverley synopses. by J. W. McSpadden; Who's Who, 1919; Who's Who in America, v. 10, 1918-1919; World almanac and encyclopedia, 1919.

The list of periodicals for 1920 is given in Appendix C. Little Folks, formerly Cassell's Little Folks, has been discontinued. The following periodicals have changed their titles since last year:—The Art World is now Arts and Decoration; the Scientific American Supplement is now the Scientific American Monthly; the Unpopular Review, is the Unpartisan Review; and the Y. W. C. A. War Work Bulletin has become the Blue Triangle News.

The 12 collections of pictures from the Library Art Club, exhibited in the Reading room, were as follows: Great War in Europe, Pt. VII., French and German; War in the Air; Pictures in Buckingham Palace and Windsor Castle, Pt. VIII., English school, Reynolds and others; Warsaw and Cracow, with war scenes in Poland; Minor munitions of war; Mount Holyoke college; Apples; Great guns; Old Newburyport houses; Britain's navy; Menace of the submarine.

The gifts of the year include, as usual, annual reports, bulletins, and other publications from libraries and colleges; books, pamphlets, and periodicals from individuals and societies, and publications from the State and Federal governments. Mrs. Mary Fifield King has added to the Fifield Collection, as in previous years, numerous papers and pamphlets of historical interest.

The largest gift of the year, consisting of about two hundred volumes, was bequeathed to the Library by the late William H. Pratt. The Library also received a hundred or more books from Mrs. Mabel L. Perkins. Several books were presented by Lester H. Cushing, Mrs. Caroline R. Foster, Miss Elizabeth S. Tolman, and Mrs. Sylvanus B. Richmond. A copy of the "Standard History of Essex County, Massachusetts," 1878, was the gift of Mr. Wilfred B. Mathewson.

The Trustees take this opportunity to acknowledge these gifts and also to thank the donors, whose names may be found in Appendix D.

The annual meeting of the Bates Association was held on August 7, at the Bates Opera House. Through its President, Mr. Walter L. Bates, of South Weymouth, the freedom of the Library was offered to the Association, by the President of the Board of Trustees, and the invitation was gratefully accepted. During the morning hours the members, from far and near, inspected the books and photographs of local, historical and genealogical interest, which were displayed for their benefit. Mrs. Mary Fifield King, who gave an address before the Association, in the afternoon, concerning the Elias Richards house in Washington Square, Weymouth, was at the Library in the morning. In her usual enthusiastic manner, Mrs. King told the visitors the story of the Fifield Collection,—describing the various books, pamphlets, and other relics of which it is composed; and explaining their historical interest in connection with the town of Weymouth. The nucleus of this collection was presented to the Library by Mrs. King and her mother, Mrs. Emily Fifield, in 1911. Mrs. King, with continued generosity, is adding to the collection, year by year. *

The approaching tercentenary of the town of Weymouth, in 1922, as well as that of Plymouth, in 1920, makes it desirable to enrich our history department by purchasing as many books as possible relating to these first two settlements in Massachusetts and to collect pictures and relics pertaining to our local history, in order to arouse and encourage the interest of our townspeople in the early history of Weymouth.

The circulation of the year exceeded that of any other year since the opening of the Fogg Memorial Library, at South Weymouth, in 1898. The number of new applicants for cards, as stated above, was 112 more than in 1918; yet the number of borrowers is still a small percentage of the population of the town.

The Library belongs to you, who are inhabitants of Weymouth, and all of you should share in its benefits. You support it, your money is invested in it. Why not visit the Library and spend an hour or two with your old book friends, or make new ones, choosing one or two of them to take home with you for more leisurely reading? Please remember, also, if you need information upon any subject, and cannot come to the Library in person, that the Library has a telephone, the number of which can be found under Weymouth in the Telephone Directory.

If you desire a book which the Library does not own, tell the Librarian. Its purchase will gladly be considered. The Trustees take pleasure in complying with such requests. A number of volumes are purchased every year at the request of students and other users of the Library.

It has been the custom of the Library to publish in the local newspaper lists of the new books when they are ready for circulation, and also to include in the Annual report a list of the year's purchases. These lists are eagerly welcomed by our regular borrowers. They stimulate in others, also, a desire to become borrowers.

A progressive library, in a recent report, announces that "In 1915, the Library began a systematic campaign of 'paid newspaper advertising.' Each week a timely and pertinent 'display ad.' was prepared for the local newspaper. The increased use of all departments of the Library is largely due to this method of reaching the homes of this community." Some method of advertising is necessary to arouse the interest of the public in the books which are worthy of its attention. PUBLICITY is the watchword of the modern library.

Free access to the book shelves was begun, as hoped for in last year's report, on April 8. It proved so satisfactory that it was continued throughout the year, and doubtless will become a permanent feature of the library administration. The change to open shelves was made with the smallest possible expense. A new desk should be put in the delivery room—a desk large enough to accommodate three workers—in order to increase the efficiency of the delivery department.

To give the children the advantages which are their due, and which the children of progressive towns and cities enjoy, the Library should provide a children's room. Books read in childhood become a source of wealth and strength, not only to the child himself, but to the community in which he dwells. This plea for a children's room has been reiterated year after year for nearly twenty years. Is it not time for the town to act?

The advisability of establishing a branch of the Tufts Library, at East Weymouth, is still open for consideration. To start such a branch would, of course, require a special appropriation from the town, unless some public spirited citizen should donate a building and its equipment for this purpose. For the maintenance of the branch an annual appropriation would be needed. This expense, however, would be offset in a measure by a reduction in the cost of the weekly transportation of the books, and in the wear and tear on the books themselves. By depositing several thousand volumes at the branch, the present crowded condition of the stacks could be relieved and the immediate necessity of more shelf capacity, with its attendant expense, would be obviated.

Many cities and towns have substituted branch libraries for their delivery stations, and so have accommodated more people; increasing thereby both the service and the circulation of their libraries. The children in the neighborhood of each branch are encouraged to acquire the "library habit" which helps them to become more intelligent citizens. It is interesting to note, also, that several towns are introducing the house to house delivery of books.

For several years the Library has been hampered by insufficient funds. On account of this, even the building itself has waited too long for needed repairs. To keep up the standard of the library and to act upon suggestions for increasing its value, the Trustees must be supported by an adequate appropriation.

The town's appropriation for the purchase of books should not be reduced, because generous friends have given funds for this purpose, as it was evidently the intention of the donors that these funds should supplement instead of diminish the appropriation from the town.

The income from only one of these funds can be used to purchase fiction, therefore, to satisfy the legitimate demand for this class of books, the appropriation should not be lessened because of the endowment funds. As none of the town's money yields a better return to each inhabitant of Weymouth, from youth to extreme old age, than that used for the support of the Library; the Trustees feel confident that this plain statement of its pressing needs will be sufficient to secure a liberal appropriation.

The Trustees do not expect the town to act, at once, upon all of the foregoing plans for enlarged service, but they submit these suggestions for consideration, with the hope that the year 1920 will see some of them, at least, on the way to realization.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE APPOINTED FOR WELCOM-ING HOME RETURNING SOLDIERS AND SAILORS

Selectmen of Weymouth,
East Weymouth, Mass.

Gentlemen:

The Committee appointed by your Board under date of February 17, 1919, for the purpose of welcoming home returning soldiers and sailors from their service in the army and navy of the United States, begs leave to make the following report:

The Committee organized by a choice of Major William L. Swan, Chairman, and William J. Holbrook, Secretary, and as finally constituted comprised the following members:

Major Wm. L. Swan, Chairman,
William J. Holbrook, Secretary
John F. Dwyer, Treasurer,
Albert P. Worthen,
Joseph A. Fern,
Robert S. Hoffman,
John Condon,
Nathan G. Cushing,
Benjamin V. Heffernan,
Mrs. Elbredge Nash,
Mrs. George W. Perry,
Miss Lillian Curtiss.

On Saturday, August 9th, 1919, the Committee carried out the following program for the reception of the service men:

At 1.00 P. M. The service men residing in North Weymouth and Weymouth Heights, assembled in uniform at Beal's Park, North Weymouth, where a short band concert was rendered by the Weymouth Band.

At 1.15 P. M. The service men left Beal's Park in autos donated and driven by the citizens of the town, proceeding via Sea, North, Church and Commercial Streets to Washington Square, Weymouth Landing, where they were joined by the service men from that community in uniform.

At 1.15 P. M. There was a short band concert at Washington Square.

At 1.45 P. M. The men were transported from Washington Square via Washington, Main and Columbian Streets to Columbian Square, South Weymouth, where they were joined by the South Weymouth men in uniform. A short band concert was given at Columbian Square.

At 2.15 P. M. The service men were transported from Columbian Square via Pleasant, Water, Myrtle and School Streets to Commercial Square, East Weymouth, where they were joined by the East Weymouth and Lovell's Corner service men in uniform.

At 2.30 P. M. A parade of the service men was formed in Commercial Square, led by a platoon of Weymouth police under command of Chief of Police Arthur H. Pratt, accompanied by the Weymouth Band, marched via Broad Street to the Clapp Memorial Grounds at Weymouth Centre and passed in review before their respective mothers, who had been assembled on the balcony of the Clapp Memorial building, and before a gathering of about 5000 people.

After the review, a panorama photograph of the service men and of the army nurses and Yeoman (F) from Weymouth was taken, following which there was a ball game on the grounds between the Norfolk Club of South Weymouth and Commonwealth Shoe Club of Whitman. A second ball game was held between two teams chosen from among the service men.

At the conclusion of the second game which was called at 6 p. m., a banquet was served under a canopy on the grounds, at which about 350 of the service men were served. During the banquet there was a band concert by the Weymouth band, and at the conclusion of the banquet the following address by Mr. Bradford Hawes, Chairman of the Board of Selectmen and Veteran of the Civil War, was given:

"It is my pleasant duty—and I may well say privilege—to welcome home in behalf of the Town of Weymouth you who have borne an honorable part in the great war which has revolutionized the governmental, social and industrial conditions of the world. When five years ago, like a bolt from a clear sky the nations of Europe were drawn into the maelstrom of war the great majority of the people of our land consoled themselves with the opinion that it was no affair of ours—that as in the past, so now, the nations of Europe must settle their own controversies.

A few there were with a prophetic vision which showed them that whether we would or not, it was inevitable that we should be drawn into the conflict if we were to maintain our high standard of national honor, to say nothing of the duty we owed to the civilized world.

"In the spring of 1917 it became evident that the time had come when the arrogant and barbarous acts of the German Government by which many of our fellow citizens lost property and lives, could no longer be borne by a self respecting people. It became further apparent that we had to choose between acting with the Allied powers of Europe against Germany, or at no late time to meet that power by ourselves upon our own soil. A state of war was declared by our President to exist between the government of Germany and this Country, and measures were at once adopted to place a great army in the field and to employ all the powers of our Navy in conjunction with the armies and navies of England, France and Italy in bringing the war to an early and successful termination.

"To you who are a part of that army and navy I need not take the time for a long recital of the events which followed. Suffice it is to say that by the entrance of the United States into the conflict, the war was brought to a more speedy close than the most sanguine then thought possible.

"Most of those who went out from us are now returned and it is our happy privilege on this pleasant and peaceful summer day to welcome you back to our midst.

"Some of those who two years ago left us in the full strength and hope of their young manhood, we shall see here no more. They paid the last full measure of devotion to the cause of human welfare, which they well knew when they entered the service might be required of them. Let us cherish their memories and resolve that their deaths shall not have been in vain, but that the cause of human liberty for which their lives were laid down may become the priceless heritage of millions yet unborn.

"When the Grand Army of the Republic which we have known for the last half century was inaugurated, it was one of its cardinal principles 'that every man who did his duty in the position assigned him deserves well of his country.' If this was true of those who served in the Civil War it is equally true of those who served in this world war and I believe that as the years roll by you will find that a grateful country will not forget the sacrifices made by those who offered their all on the altar of service to humanity.

"I know that there are some 2,000,000 men whose lot it was never to cross the sea, but I also know that most of these regarded that fact a hardship rather than otherwise.

"We must not forget that it was not alone the great things accomplished by our men on the bloody fields of France which hastened the close of the war, but the fact that America had the men and means at hand to replace those already in the field as fast as might become necessary.

"Whether, therefore, it was your lot to cross the sea and have an actual part in the great conflict or whether you were upon this side awaiting your turn, a grateful town today gives thanks for the service rendered and rejoices in your safe return to home and friends.

"I wish to you each and all a long and prosperous life in the land which your valor has helped to place in the leading rank among the nations of the earth."

In the evening there was a band concert, dancing on the grounds, singing and fireworks.

It was a gala day for the town. Buildings and residences in the town were decorated with flags and bunting and everywhere the soldiers were greeted with enthusiasm and joy. The beautiful Clapp Memorial building and grounds, which had been so graciously donated by the Davis Bates Clapp Memorial Association for that day, made an ideal place to hold the exercises of the day, and as the men marched on and across the field in company formation and in line, with the band playing and colors flying, they presented a sight never to be forgotten by those who witnessed it.

On Sunday, Sept. 28, 1919, at the Clapp Memorial grounds, the Committee held an open air Memorial Service for the soldiers and sailors from Weymouth who gave their lives in the world war, the program for which was as follows:

Quartet (Pilgrim)	Lead Kindly Light
Invocation	Rev. John B. Holland
Quartet	Just Beyond the Hilltops
Prayer	Rev. L. W. Atwood
Quartet	Abide with Me
Address	Rev. Fr. Sherry of Cohasset (Chaplain of 102d Inf.)
Congregational Singing, Battle Hymn of the Republic
Roll Call of Dead	Rev. Arthur S. Emig
Quartet	Soldier, Rest
Address	Rev. Frank Kingdon
Congregational Singing	Star Spangled Banner
Taps	Frank L. Ventre
Benediction	Rev. O. O. Price

The Committee in this report desires to thank all who so ably assisted it in its work, and especially the Davis Bates Clapp Memorial Association for the use of their building and grounds at Weymouth Centre, and the Police Department for its efficient handling of the crowds and traffic, and the various citizens who contributed and drove their automobiles in transporting the service men, and the Clergymen of the town who gave their services so willingly for the Memorial Service, and the Press of the town for publication of notices of the Committee, and the Fire Department for the use of the fire apparatus in the automobile parade, and all those who helped to make the reception for the boys so successful.

The Committee has supplied to each service man a photograph taken of the men at the Clapp Memorial grounds.

At the annual town meeting in March, 1919, there was appropriated for the use of the Committee the sum of $4000. In addition to the above appropriation, there was donated to the Committee from the Treasury of the Public Safety Committee the sum of $553.95 and from the proceeds of the Victory Minstrels the sum of $331.47. Total expenses were $3,721.89 as will appear in detail in the Town Accountant's report.

For the Committee,

WM. J. HOLBROOK.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE THREE HUNDREDTH ANNIVERSARY OF THE SETTLEMENT OF WEYMOUTH.

The Committee appointed at the last Annual meeting report as follows:—

There has never been any tercentenary observance in any New England town for the obvious reason that there were none entitled to such a privilege. Plymouth proposes to hold such a celebration this year.

The next oldest settlement was at Weymouth, in the year 1622.

It is eminently proper that the three hundredth anniversary be celebrated in a manner befitting its importance.

Your Committee recommend that the occasion be observed; that a representative Committee be appointed to consider and report details and plans as to the time, nature, and extent of such a celebration, and that a suitable appropriation be made. The Committee earnestly hope that the New Memorial Building will be finished and available for such part of the exercises as may be found desirable.

REPORT OF THE SEALER OF WEIGHTS AND MEASURES.

December 31, 1919.

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen of the Town of Weymouth:

Gentlemen:—

During this last year I have had more than my usual amount of business and duties to attend to by the addition of many new stores and also many Gasoline Pumps to seal and inspect. My receipts showing this by an increase of $22.78 over last year.

I again call your attention of the importance of inspections to be made by me, for when you realize goods are selling for .05 an ounce the same as butter, it does not take much for you to be overcharged, and on inspection made, many a scale has had to be adjusted. I do not mean to say there was intent on part of the store keeper, but the errors were there just the same. The same appears as well to Gasoline Pumps which need the watchful eye of some one, as they get out of adjustment very easy.

During the year I received twelve convictions in the court as follows:—

Peddling without license—Six
Short weight on ice—Four. Paid fines $105.00
Selling vegetables by measure other than by weight—One. Paid fine $15.00.

During the year twenty-six Fish, Fruit and Vegetable licenses at $10.00 each were granted, being an increase of six over the previous year.

The ice question this last year was a serious one and a bad situation existed. Many a person reported to me that they were being overcharged, but they did not dare to report to me officially as they were afraid they would be unable to secure any ice, if a prosecution took place. I do hope this coming year, with plenty of ice in sight, that any resident who believes they are being overcharged will report to me and I will see that they get what they pay for.

You do not have to go to court as I prosecute without you, and furthermore, any time you have a grievance regarding weights or measures, I will be pleased to investigate for you.

My general work for the year for sealing is as follows:—

	1918		1919
Sealed	2188	Articles	Sealed	2426 Articles
Nonsealed.....	11	"	Nonsealed.....	12 "
Condemned.....	22	"	Condemned.....	24 "
Showing an increase of 238 more articles sealed in 1919 than in 1918.

Respectfully submitted,
RUSSELL B. WORSTER, Sealer.

I have had a few complaints of minor importance, but they have been attended to and things seem to be in satisfactory shape at present.

THE REPORT OF THE PARK COMMISSIONERS.

WEBB PARK.

Webb Park has been successfully used the past season by a very large number of people. There have been swings and teeter boards for the children; the boys and men have enjoyed the ball park; the grounds themselves have been enjoyed by the older members of the families. The beautiful view from the park, taking in the harbor and surrounding country, is unsurpassed. No town can boast of a better band stand. We feel that it would be an advantage if a little money could be used for concerts for the citizens during the summer months. We also feel that it is necessary, in view of the large patronage this park receives, that there should be a convenience station placed on the park.

GREAT HILL PARK.

As in the past, Great Hill Park is a proposition beyond the means at the disposal of the Commissioners, but a few rest seats should be provided at the summit for those who are fortunate enough to know of the wonderful view that can be obtained from this point, a view that beggars description.

BEALS PARK.

Beads Park is very unsatisfactory as a playground, and some improvements must be made in the next year. The pond has been maintained in a very unsatisfactory way. Your Commissioners intend to make sanitary cleaning out and cementing in some way to make more sightly. The playground at the upper end should be improved, and more interest should be taken by the citizens of North Weymouth. The electric light has been maintained, and swings and slide have been well looked after by Mr. Marr, also the papers picked up on grounds, and the lawns, shrubs and flower bed maintained.

BAILEY GREEN.

Bailey Green has been kept mowed and the shrubs trimmed. The flag pole, which the residents complained to the selectmen as being dangerous, has been rendered safe by setting in cement.

This little park deserves a lot of attention, as it is seen by more people than all of the other parks combined. New sodding around the shrubs is absolutely necessary. Due in a degree perhaps to so many automobiles parking in front of the Opera House, other machines coming around the corner have gradually encroached on the green until they have, in places, cut in fully three feet. A cement curbing should be placed around this park. The cost of future maintenance would amount to very little.

LOVELL'S CORNER.

The Lovell's Corner playground, for which the town appropriated $100. for rental for one year, has been maintained and appreciated by the people of Lovell's Corner. Early in the spring the Park Commissioners appropriated $64. for lumber, and the citizens of Lovell's Corner, and of the Improvement Society, built a summer house with seats and tables, which have been used at several gatherings of the citizens during the year, especially the Fourth of July. Swings and seats have been put up and maintained by the Improvement Society, and about $125. has also been raised for the playground for next year for equipment, looking forward to the town buying or taking by eminent domain. The people of Lovell's Corner are very much interested in this project, and are willing to co-operate in every way toward making this all that it should be for the youth of the place.

BATH HOUSE.

Town Counsel reports that the land at North Weymouth cannot be taken for a bath house site, but can be taken for park purposes, and that another article in the town warrant will be required.

DONATIONS.

A donation of ten dollars was received from the Sisters at Weymouth for Webb Park.

APPROPRIATIONS.

Our appropriation of $600. is entirely too small to carry on the work of the Commission as it should be carried on. We earnestly hope that not only the Appropriation Committee, but the citizens of Weymouth, will realize the importance of this work. The Town can spend money to no better advantage than in building up a permanent asset.

MEETINGS.

Regular monthly meetings have been held by the Commissioners to take up matters of interest, and all of the parks have been inspected by the Commissioners in a body. We well know the conditions and requirements.

CHANGE IN PARK COMMISSIONERS.

Joseph Kelley was elected at a joint meeting of the Board of Selectmen and the Park Commissioners to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of J. Herbert Walsh.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO CONSIDER THE ERECTION OF A MEMORIAL TOWN HALL.

Report of the committee appointed by the Town to consider the erection of a Memorial Town Hall in honor of those men who have gone from this Town to serve in the military or naval forces of the United States in the several wars in which the Nation has been engaged.

At the meeting of the town held March 13, 1919, this committee was appointed for the above purpose and was authorized to have plans prepared for such a building as the result of its deliberations determined to be suitable for the purpose named. George L. Barnes was chosen chairman and Bradford Hawes secretary of the committee.

The committee was unanimously of the opinion that the time was ripe for an undertaking of this nature. About eight hundred of the young men of the town served in the army and navy of the United States in the war of 1861 to 1865 which resulted in the preservation of the Union. Several men from our town served the country in the Spanish war of 1898. About seven hundred and fifty were in the military, naval and aerial forces of our country in the late European war.

They entered the service well knowing that they might be called upon to make the supreme sacrifice for the welfare of our country and for the good of humanity throughout the civilized world.

What more fitting tribute to their devotion can we erect than a noble structure through the portals of which every person, when he passes must be reminded of the service of those who, on land and sea and in the air, have struggled—many of them even unto death—for the making of a better world and, we trust, for a still more glorious future for the land we love.

On May 27, 1913, our Town Hall was destroyed by fire. Since that time we have been without any suitable place in which to hold our town meetings. Our accommodations for the office work of the several departments are fast becoming inadequate. This committee feels that it is little short of a disgrace that one of the oldest towns of the Commonwealth, now with a population of more than fourteen thousand and a valuation of $13,600,000, and within six miles of the metropolis of New England, should longer content itself without a municipal building suitable for its needs. In view of the above facts the committee was unanimously of the opinion that the time had arrived when such a building should be erected and that the memorial feature should be made prominent. We early in our deliberations found that the assistance of an architect was desirable, if not indispensable.

The services of Harold F. Kellogg of Brookline were secured in an advisory capacity and for perfecting plans, and he entered with enthusiasm into the work.

We have had joint meetings with the members of the Planning Board and are assured of their hearty co-operation without reservation, except that the building shall be of generous proportions and becoming dignity, and that the ground shall be of ample proportions. We also have had hearings to which the several patriotic organizations of the town and the various town officers were invited and at which we received numerous valuable suggestions.

We submit the accompanying plans, prepared by Mr. Kellogg for the consideration of the town's people. These plans are subject to minor changes in arrangement and designation of the rooms. A brief description of the plans is as follows:

The building should be placed in a commanding position with a fore-court or Court of Honor, in which war relics may be set up. This approach should be used in connection with the Memorial Hall in the building, as the whole building is in itself a memorial. Ample steps do more towards increasing the monumental effect of the building than probably any other landscape feature.

From this fore-court, we enter, through the vestibule, the Memorial Hall itself. The character of this room should typify the character of the whole building. It has on each side a colonnade, and at either end a monumental staircase to the Veterans Association Hall directly above. The walls of this hall will be treated in a monumental way, leaving adequate surface for bronze tablets and wall paintings, which may be added from time to time.

The Main Assembly Hall, where the town meetings will be held, is directly back of the Memorial Hall and is entered by three doors. It has also four means of egress in addition. This hall will seat 1100 on the floor, and has on the front portion of it a balcony seating 400 more. It is the opinion of this Committee that this hall will take care of the voters of the town for many years to come. At the furthest end of the hall is a stage with dressing rooms on each side.

Grouped around the Memorial Hall are the town offices. Thus the significance of this hall will be appreciated by every one who enters the building. To the left is a large hearing room and Selectmen's office. These two rooms are so arranged that by opening folding doors they can be turned into one room for large hearings. The Selectmen have their own toilets and coat closets. On the other side of the Hearing Room, are the Town Accountant's and Treasurer's offices with adjacent vaults. The Collector's office is at the left of the main entrance, and the Clerk's on the right. Each of these are accessible to the vaults. The Water Board have a large public office and a private office. The Superintendent of Streets shares an office with the Engineer, leaving an unassigned office for future development. There is also a Committee Room for small hearings and Committee meetings.

The second floor has in the central portion a two-story room dedicated to the Veteran Associations of Weymouth. It has a small ante-room to be used either as a coat or dressing room, and has four means of egress. The Assessors' office is on the left, and has its own vault. On the right are two club rooms. The hallway, crossing the building, gives three entrances to the Veterans Association Hall and the balcony of the large Assembly Hall on the first floor.

In the basement will be offices for the Tree Warden, the Sealer of Weights and Measures, a room for the Registrars of Voters, which may be used for a polling place, and a Janitor's room. There will be a large banquet hall with its kitchen, toilets, coat rooms, etc., and a small banquet hall with its independent accessories. The boilers will be located in such a manner that the coal can be easily handled and the ashes removed. There will be two boilers, one for the offices, which are heated during the week and the other to heat the large rooms which will be heated only on occasions. This piping will be so arranged that it will be easily drained to avoid freezing. There will also be large storage space in the basement for tables, chairs, etc. As the basement has its own independent entrances, a public utility station will there be installed. There will be a large vault for the records of the town which are not in daily use.

The general design of the building will be Colonial, as Weymouth is one of the oldest towns in the Commonwealth. The facade will have two-story columns in the central portion with balconies opening from the Veterans Association Hall on the second floor. These balconies could be used for public speaking or for military reviews. The roof with its cupola is not unlike the old State House in Boston.

The materials to be used will be red Harvard brick with limestone trimmings. A slate roof of varied colors will give the attractiveness of age. The detail will be of wood. The interior will be simple but of the best finish. The only elaborate room will be the Memorial Hall, which will have a marble floor with inlays showing the seal of Weymouth.

From the start we have been confronted with the difficulty of determining the best available site. Several things had to be taken into consideration, viz: its proximity to the centre of population and of two main lines of travel; the area; the cost of acquiring; the grade from the street, which should be moderately rising and general contour; a southerly exposure if possible; the outlook from the front, and protection against undesirable developments in the neighborhood.

It is hardly to be expected that all of these advantages are to be found in any one site, but it is desirable to obtain as many of them as possible.

The committee felt that the selection of a site was of such importance that the greatest care should be exercised in determining it. To this end we secured the services of Mr. Arthur Shurtleff, an expert town planner, who has made a careful study of the town and especially of various proposed sites that have been under consideration.

At this writing a decision has not been arrived at, but in a general way we consider that the location of the building should be not more than one-fourth of a mile from the crossing of Broad Street and Middle Street.

The committee has been much gratified with the spirit of helpfulness and co-operation shown by the members of the several organizations and by the town officers who have met with us on various occasions, and hereby tender thanks for the numerous helpful suggestions received from them. It will be seen from the foregoing description that the plan contemplates the bringing of all of the town business under one roof, where any one wishing to meet any of the officers of the town may do so at any time during business hours.

The creation of a civic centre with facilities which such a building as is contemplated will provide for assemblies of one character and another, will, we feel assured, be a strong factor in bringing the citizens of the several villages into closer and more harmonious relations than have heretofore existed.

If such a result shall follow we feel that the enterprise will have been fully justified and will be well worth all that it costs.

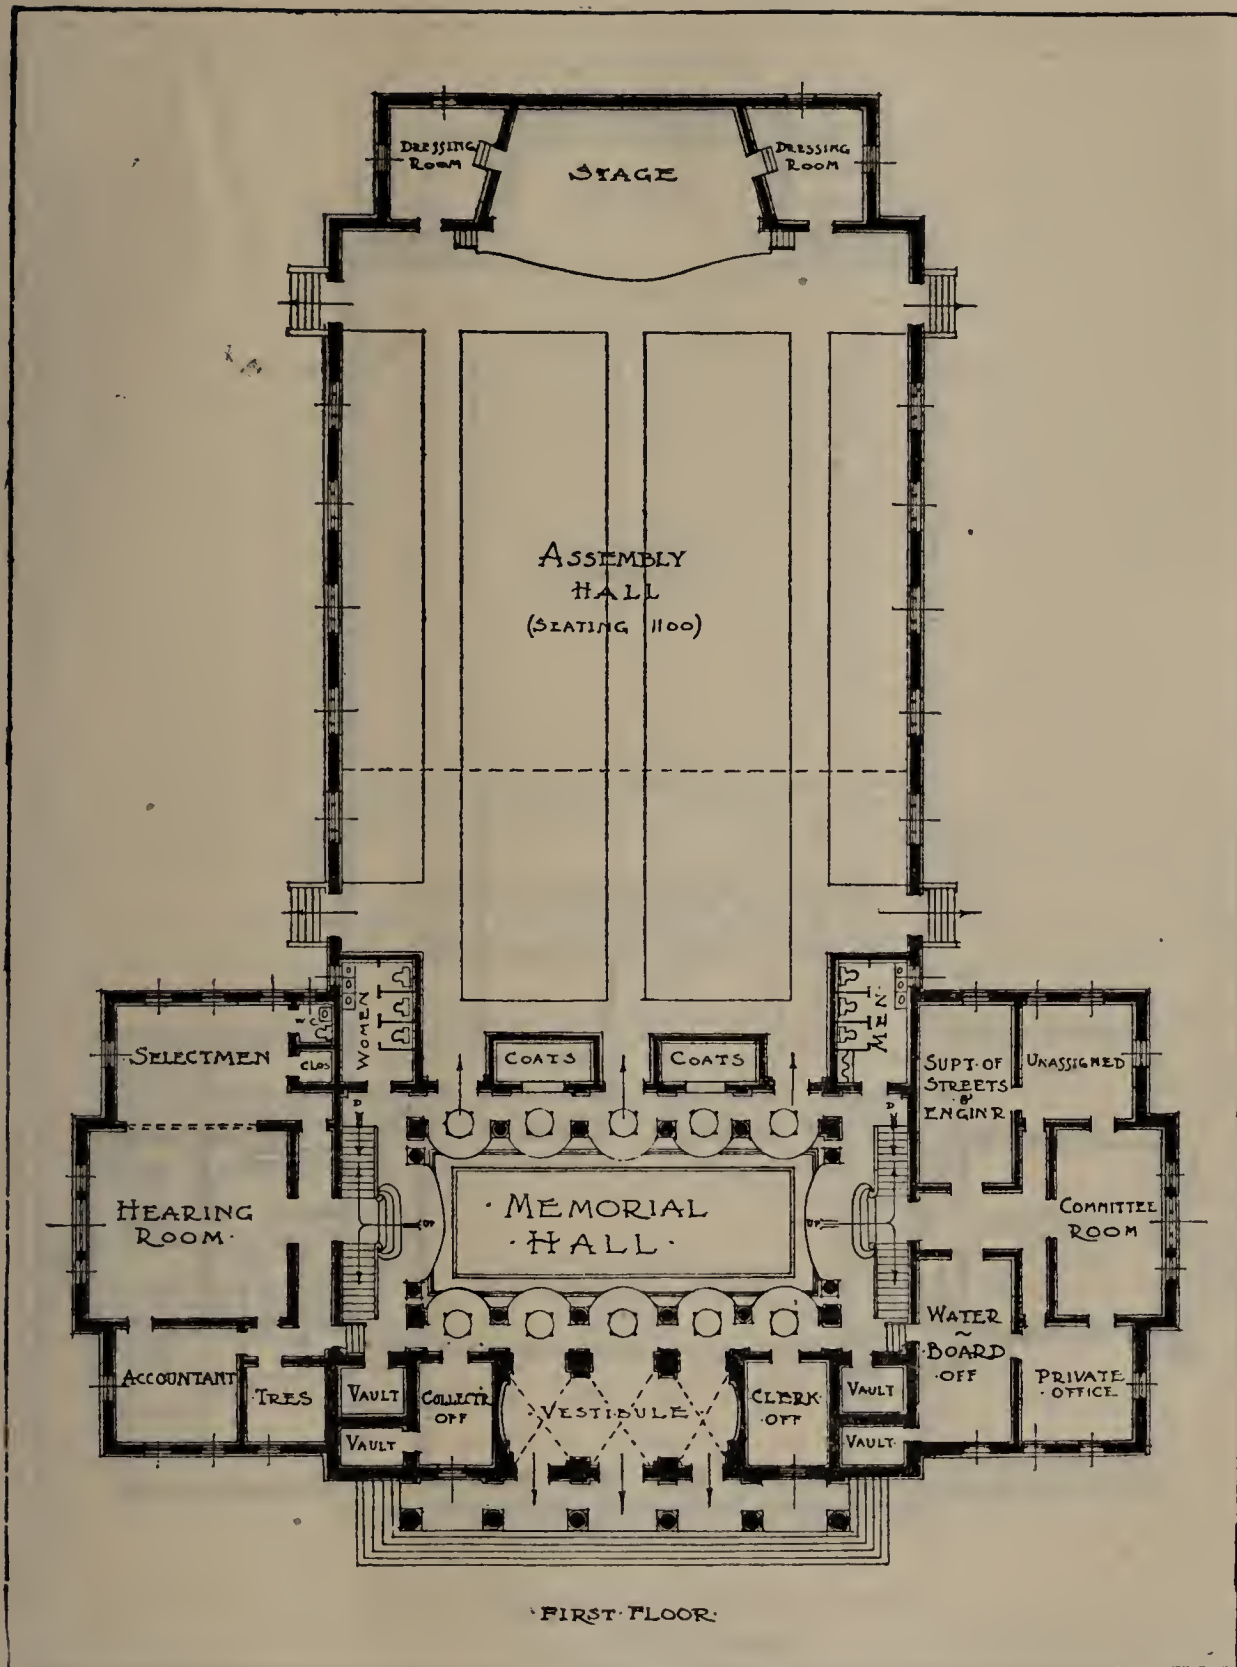

In entering upon its work your committee felt that this is the most important movement in relation to the future development and welfare of the town which has ever been undertaken. We have therefore given it our best thought and have spared neither time nor pains to secure a result which will be acceptable to the inhabitants of the town. Seventeen meetings have been held, at several of which representative citizens have been asked in for counsel and advice. We have endeavored to consider the subject faithfully in all its bearings.

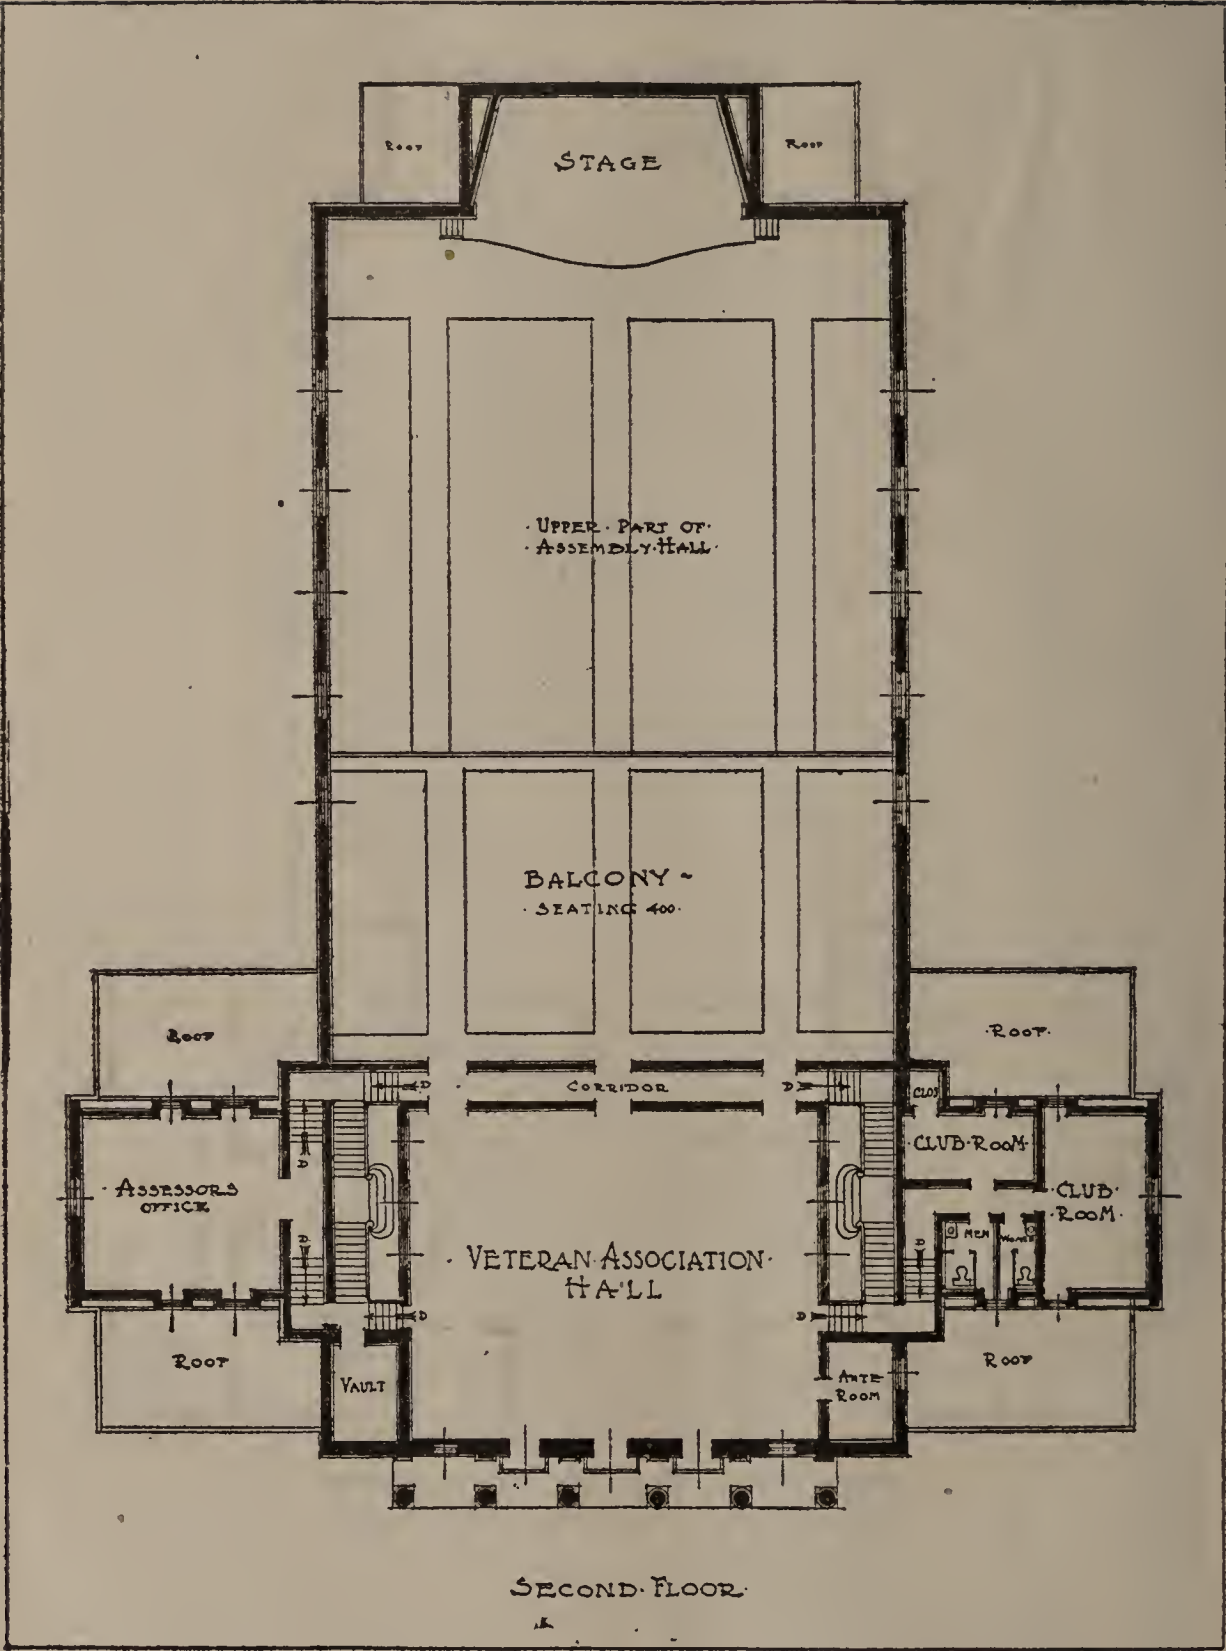

If the result of our labors shall meet the approval of our fellow citizens and be instrumental in securing the object which we seek we shall feel amply rewarded.

REPORT OF MOTH SUPERINTENDENT

South Weymouth, Jan. 12, 1920.

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen of the Town of Weymouth.
Gentlemen:

During the past year our Town as well as nearly every other town in eastern Massachusetts suffered from an unusually heavy infestation of Gypsy Moths, which with the scarcity of efficient help, leaves the department with a hard fight on its hands to keep the pests under control the coming season. The arsenate of lead which we used last summer was one-half in paste form and one-half in powder form, the powder being fully as efficient and much more economical, as with my truck I could keep both big sprayers supplied with lead, thereby eliminating the need of two supply teams with drivers to transport and mix the heavy paste. The spraying machines will need quite extensive repairs before the next spraying opens, and some new hose will be needed.

Respectfully submitted,

C. L. MERRITT,
Moth Superintendent.

REPORT OF THE TREE WARDEN

South Weymouth, Jan. 12, 1920.

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen of the Town of Weymouth.
Gentlemen:

Herein please find my report for the year 1919.

During the year we have sprayed practically all of the Town Shade Trees, cut out much dead wood and many low-hanging branches and removed 11 dead or objectionable trees.

We have set out only 10 young Maple trees and much more of that work should be done, but not much can be done these times on a four hundred dollar appropriation.

Respectfully submitted,

C. L. MERRITT,
Tree Warden.

REPORT OF FOREST WARDEN

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen.

Gentlemen:—I hereby submit my report as Forest Warden for the year ending Dec. 31, 1919.

During the year 1919 there have been 48 grass and forest fires. There has been five hundred fire permits issued this year. Captains of Hose 1, 2, 3, 5 acted as forest wardens. The largest amount paid at any one fire was $12.50.

WALTER W. PRATT,
Forest Warden.

REPORT OF TOWN ENGINEER

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen of the Town of Weymouth.
Gentlemen:—

I submit herewith my thirteenth annual report on the town survey work including a brief summary of other surveying or engineering work done during the past year.

Referring to the town survey which gave the assessors a system of sheets covering the entire town, the present yearly work is almost entirely revision, but in addition we are constantly on the lookout to obtain from any source information tending to eliminate the few unidentified parcels or find owners for same.

During the past year the size of the appropriation (sufficient under normal conditions) coupled with the very material increase in supplies, fares, etc., made it necessary to confine our efforts almost exclusively to the revision to April 1, 1919, in order to be able to supply the assessors with the sheets necessary for their work; a complete set (65 sheets) having been furnished them.

The revision each year consists of an examination of every transfer during said year establishing the parcels conveyed on the plan and making all the necessary changes due to such transfer. Many times a survey of the parcel is necessary in order to thus establish it. In addition all the new buildings are plotted and shown on the plan, also any changes of importance to old buildings noted.

In my report for 1918 I gave a list of the approximate number of transfers over a period of eleven years, showing a minimum of 365 in 1908, and a maximum of 600 during several of the years subsequent to 1919.

In 1919 the transfers numbered about 770 (excluding tax sales) which shows an increase of over 25 per cent above the maximum (and over 100 per cent. above the minimum.) This same increase is true to a greater or less degree in other towns. There have also been several plans registered in the land court the past year. Increased transfers, etc., all add to the cost of revision, and I should recommend the sum of $1500 for the work the coming year.

During the past year I have sold for the town 37 prints of the town survey sheets, and one index map; also three of the lithograph maps of the town. There have, I believe, been other maps sold at the town offices. It has been the policy of the town to sell them at cost, and the price for the sheets during the past years has been $1.00 each. The price at the printer's has been raised several times, and at present prices the amount charged by the town in the future should be not less than $1.50 per sheet.

There have been instances the past year as heretofore where in the absence of bench levels throughout the town it has been necessary to refer the work in each case to an arbitrary datum. This is not the best practice, and I should strongly recommend, as I have in the past, at least a small sum spent each year to establish such a system.

The matter of properly marking by permanent bounds such new streets as are accepted by the town, I would bring to the attention of your Board, and also recommend that this policy be gradually extended to include various other streets throughout the town. A few such bounds have been set the past year. There has not been as much miscellaneous work done the past year as was the case previous to the war, but I would note various items which are practically duplicated each year, such as:—the street line furnished an abuttor (upon application by him to your Board) so that he might build a wall or fence without encroachment on the town, or for other reasons; the investigation of all town street or boundary lines, in cases where the town receives a notice from the land court, in order to protect the town's interest; the setting of bounds to mark street lines as existing or established; survey and plan of street for the purpose of a hearing on same; the establishment of street numbers in certain sections not covered originally, and plan of same; various grades for street construction, grades for gutter, study and plan for proposed drainage on Broad Street, near Jackson Square; plan for court purposes of Shaw Street drain. A profile of Washington Street from Washington Square to Lincoln Square, and of Broad street from Lincoln Square to Essex Street was taken and grades established for the car tracks, and grades given for the curbstone along Washington Street. There have also been surveys and plans made of parcels bought or sold by the town during the past year.

As in past years I am indebted to your Board and to other officials of the town for their continued confidence and courtesy, also to many others for aid in various ways to me or my assistants.

To all these I wish in closing to express my thanks.

Respectfully submitted,

RUSSELL H. WHITING,
Civil Engineer.

REPORT OF LIGHTING COMMITTEE

Weymouth, Dec. 31st, 1919.

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen:

The Lighting Committee respectfully submits the following report:

At the Annual Town Meeting held in March, 1919, $15,000 was raised and appropriated for electric lighting.

We have installed twenty-eight 40 c. p. and one 80 c. p. lights this year and we are having a great many calls for new lights that we are unable to grant as the number of lights installed at the present time will cost $14,967.24 for 1920.

The committee recommend that $15,500 should be raised and appropriated for the coming year.

The rebates for the year were $25.

In this era of high prices it is refreshing to know that our rates for Electric Street Lighting are the lowest in the history of Weymouth.

WINSLOW M. TIRRELL,

WALTER W. PRATT,

REPORT OF OVERSEERS OF THE POOR

To the Inhabitants of the Town of Weymouth:

As the same conditions existed in the town in regard to housing our poor an arrangement was made with the Overseers of the Poor of Braintree to care for our inmates, the rate to be seven dollars per week; this does not include clothing or bedding.

We have had two deaths among our inmates during the year, one being in his hundred and first year.

The town property under the care of Parker Condrick has served well and we have purchased a supply of wood locally to carry us through the winter, same having been purchased from Mr. Frank Holmes of East Weymouth.

At the present time we have 12 inmates located at Braintree Town Farm and from all reports they are well cared for at this time under the care of Mr. and Mrs. Christian, who have taken charge recently, and from what information we can gather the previous superintendent did not give the inmates the attention they needed, so the change was made and all are satisfied.

The cost of the inmates, including clothing, etc., was $5,767.14.

We have supported in city and state hospitals for periods of short and long duration nine patients, and have extended aid to towns' poor in homes in this and other towns and cities eighty-seven families at a cost of $13,977.12.

We have also aided, of those residing in this town but having no settlement here, twenty-one families, $4,074.97.

Town Physicians

The town Physicians appointed to attend the poor are: For Ward 1 and the Braintree Town Farm, Dr. William A. Drake; for Ward 2, Dr. John C. Fraser; for Ward 3, Dr. Rudolph Jacoby; for Ward 4, Dr. Karl H. Granger; for Ward 5, Dr. George E. Emerson.

REPORT OF SELECTMEN

To the Inhabitants of Weymouth:

The present year has had its variety of conditions brought about by after the war duties, as we all know that the men and women of the town who enlisted in the service of the country had to be returned to civil life and this was a problem that interested all.

We might well consider the town's part in the great war and include the effort made by those who gave services that we might live in peace and enjoy the liberty that was intended by the constitution under which we have created a nation such as ours, one that today the whole world respects and which is unstained and has been upheld by the men of our town and has taught the struggling nations of the world that we are ready and willing to extend a helping hand when needed.

The spirit shown during the war by the men of the town was that of which we may well be proud, the number of men and women who served totals approximately 750, and thanks be to God the number of deaths and casualties were not excessive and the men have returned to us better physically and otherwise and have carried themselves well.

We believe that we owe to those who have made the supreme sacrifice a great honor and we sincerely hope that the history that they have made will always remain fresh in our minds so that on occasions of memorials they will not be overlooked, let us inscribe their deeds and names deep in our minds ever to remain for all times.

We also ought to say that the women who have interested themselves in the various organizations pertaining to making the necessary articles as used by the men of the town while in the service have rendered a wonderful service and also their efforts in trying to keep up that good spirit of manhood by catering to their many wants not only while doing their duty but as they have returned to us again these same women have worked untiringly to tide them over the rough places until they were able to secure some kind of employment, and in a good many cases they have turned their efforts to the families, which has been a great help under the circumstances.

SELECTMEN AS ENGINEERS

The Board of Selectmen feel that as they have assumed the position of Fire Engineers the people should know why they did so and what the results have been. In the first instance we wish to say that we have always had at heart the best interests of the town, we have no doubt caused a good many to think that we were interfering in a service that did not interest us, but such is not the case; we have introduced a number of good features in the department and we know that the town will realize a great deal from the same; this Board assumed the position of Fire Engineers without pay, and have put in a lot of time endeavoring to bolster up an efficient department. It is true that we have met with some difficulties but we have contended that as we had the interest of all the people at heart we acted in accordance with our best judgment and have put the effort where it was most needed. We have had a few changes amongst the permanent men on the department, but we have been fortunate to secure good men to fill the vacancies, and we feel safe to say that if the present system is carried on the department will profit and the interests of the town will be protected.

FINANCIAL STATEMENT

The town having accepted the provisions of Chapter 293 of the Acts of 1916 at the special town meeting held November the Selectmen in December established certain rules for the regulation of "jitneys" and the same are now in force.

As to the statement of expenditures under the different appropriations, we refer to the report of the Town Accountant.

SUITS AT LAW

The action of Joanna Burke against the town to recover $10,000 for personal injuries sustained by reason of an alleged defect in Neck Street, has been settled during the year by payment of $300.

The suit of Herbert A. Billings against the town for damages claimed to have been caused by blasting on Front Street is still pending in the District Court at Quincy.

Under date of March 1, 1919, Simon Delorey brought suit against the town, alleging $300 damages claimed to have been caused to his hay crop in a meadow on Neck Street, in consequence of the condition of a street drain whereby the land was flooded. Suit is pending at the District Court in Quincy.

An action to recover damages for personal injuries has been brought in the Superior Court by one Clarence A. Wright, who, while riding through Jackson Square on May 18, 1918 (Red Cross Parade day) in a motorcycle, came in collision with a rope suspended across Pleasant Street from the band stand to a pole on the sidewalk. Pending at Dedham.

In the Supreme Judicial Court, in April, 1919, a petition was brought by John F. Dwyer for a writ of mandamus against the Board of Selectmen to restrain the Board from counting the ballots for selectmen cast at the annual town meeting on March 10, 1919. After hearing, the petition was granted.

STREET RAILWAY SITUATION

At the beginning of the year the Receiver of the Bay State Street Railway Company had discontinued the service on Pleasant Street between Jackson Square and Columbian Square, and had given notice that he proposed to discontinue service on the Main-Front Street line between Lincoln Square and Columbian Square.

As a result of proceedings in the Federal Court, service on this latter line was not discontinued, and contributions being made by certain citizens of the town towards defraying a part of the cost of operation, service on the Pleasant Street route was resumed.

The Bay State Company has been re-organized as the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company and on June 1, its operation passed into the hands of five trustees, appointed by the Governor and representing the public.

In November, the trustees gave notice that there was such a deficit in the revenue from the operation of the Pleasant Street line between Jackson and Columbian Squares that they would not be justified, under the law requiring them to operate the road on a service at cost basis, to continue its operation unless some contribution was made to help meet this deficit. The trustees estimated that if the sum of $2400 was contributed, service could be continued until November 1, 1920.

At a special town meeting held November it was voted to appropriate $400 to keep the line running until January 1, 1920 and service is now being continued by the trustees until the town has its annual meeting when it may be determined whether a further sum, if then found necessary, shall be voted to keep the service on until November 1, 1920.

On March 4, 1919, the Selectmen granted a permit to the Massachusetts Highway Service Company for the erection of poles, wires and other necessary structures to operate a trolley motor trackless system of transportation through that part of Main and Pond Streets between the South Weymouth Railroad station and the Abington town line; and on June 19, 1919, the Selectmen granted to the same company a similar permission as to that part of Pleasant Street between said railroad station and Columbian Square. These permits were afterwards somewhat modified by the Selectmen at the request of the said Highway Service Company, and on August 8, 1919, both permits, in a form amended to conform to the company's suggestions, were delivered to the company. These permits contained the provision that they should be submitted to the Public Service Commission for approval on or before August 15, 1919, but up to date have not been so submitted and the Selectmen have heard nothing from the company as to its intentions.

REPORT OF THE TUFTS FUNDS.

By the terms of the will of the late Quincy Tufts, the amounts named in the following bequests are deposited in the Massachusetts Hospital Life Insurance Company.

Ten thousand dollars, the income from which shall be devoted as follows: One-half in procuring free public lectures upon useful knowledge; one-fourth for the maintenance of a public reading room and one-fourth for the purchase of books for the public library.

Two thousand dollars, the income to provide for the construction of a sidewalk on Commercial and Church Streets, from Washington Square to the Old North Church, and for planting out shade trees upon the same. If at any time the income from this fund is not needed for the purpose named, it may be used for sidewalks upon other streets.

The will provides that the above named incomes shall be expended under the direction of the Selectmen of the town for the time being.

Five hundred dollars; the income from which is to be expended for the care and preservation of the Tufts family tomb in the North Weymouth Cemetery. The income from the last named fund is paid to the Trustees of the cemetery for the purpose named.

The income devoted to free public lectures has been allowed to accumulate until it now amounts to $1,961.93. This amount will provide for resuming the lectures the coming winter and continuing them uninterruptedly for several years. Also, the income from the sidewalk and shade tree fund has been allowed to accumulate to the amount of $500.14. A gravel sidewalk only has heretofore been maintained upon the streets named. The amount now on hand should provide for making a creditable beginning, the coming season, upon a sidewalk of permanent construction.

The income from these funds is not received until about the tenth of January of the year following that for which it accrues.

It has heretofore been the practice to report the receipts and expenditures under these funds as of the year preceding that in which the transactions are really made. To conform with the practice of the Town Treasurer of closing all accounts on December 31, this report will make no statement of the transactions which come within the year 1920, but they will appear in the report for that year. This will leave the principal amounts of the funds as hereinbefore stated.

BRADFORD HAWES,
Chairman of Selectmen.

REPORT OF THE FIRE ENGINEERS.

To the Inhabitants of the Town of Weymouth:

The Fire Engineers respectfully submit the following report for year ending December 31, 1919; this present Board assumed control on May 1, 1919, and organized as follows: To serve as engineers without pay, Bradford Hawes, chairman; Joseph A. Fern, clerk; Alfred W. Hastings, John F. Dwyer and George H. Newton, and Walter W. Pratt, as chief.

Houses and Apparatus.

The houses are in good condition, considering the age of same, but we believe they should be given some consideration inside as well as out, during this year, such as removal of the hose towers, on one or two of the houses, as same are in poor condition, and not being used. It would seem inadvisable to make repairs, as money could be used to better advantage.

Fire Losses.

Value of buildings where fire occurred	$35,050.00
Damage to building where fire occurred	12,060.10
Value of contents	8,400.00
Damage to contents	4,280.00

The Board has had to contend with the usual complaint of false alarms, and we deemed it advisable to cause a conviction if possible, for any such offender, so a reward of $100 was offered for the arrest and conviction of any such person, and this seems to have had its effect.

Fire Trucks.

The Fire Trucks are in good condition, and have served the town well; of course, they are old and are deteriorating all the time, and will need attention more or less as time goes on. The Tractor, that was purchased previous to this Board having assumed control, has been put in commission, and has served well, and ought to serve the town in all cases. The same idea has been adopted in connection with ladder truck at Comb. No. 5, Percy Sargent using his truck, same having been equipped to serve as tractor, instead of having to use horses, which are hard to obtain today to serve the purpose.

Number of Bell and Telephone calls in each ward, from Jan. 1, 1919 to Jan. 1, 1920:

Combination No. 1.	26 calls.
Combination No. 2.	63 calls.
Combination No. 3.	36 calls.
Combination No. 5.	39 calls.

Total164 calls.

In concluding the report, we wish to say that we wish to convey to all the officers and men of the department, our sincere wishes for their co-operation in the performance of the work of the department, and we sincerely hope that harmony and efficiency will prevail.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF STREETS.

For Year Ending Dec. 31, 1919.

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen:

The annual report of the street department for the year ending December 31st, 1919, is respectfully submitted for your consideration.

The past year has been a notable one in the history of the department in that real progress has been made towards the carrying out of a plan for the permanent construction of streets, a suitable building has been provided for housing the department's equipment, and considerable labor-saving machinery purchased.

The expense of maintaining roads has increased by leaps and bounds all over the country and will continue to increase for some time. It is only by introducing labor-saving devices and building so-called permanent roads that the costs can be kept within reasonable limits.

Permanent Construction.

In my report of last year I advocated a bond issue of $100,000 for the permanent construction of our main streets, the work to extend over a period of five years. This plan was approved in part by the appropriation committee, but they decided that the same results could be accomplished if $20,000 a year was issued each year for five years, instead of the larger sum at one time, and this amount was approved by the voters at the March meeting.

The kind of pavement to be laid was decided upon after visiting several cities and towns and obtaining information from the Massachusetts Highway Commission.

The nature and amount of traffic, the cost of construction and the available natural material for road building entered into the problem. After careful consideration it was decided that a two inch asphalt concrete wearing surface on a three inch broken stone base, penetrated with "Tarvia" was the most economical pavement to lay. The character of our broken stone is not ideal for a wearing surface and the expense of block paving was too great, so specifications were prepared for a pavement as outlined above.

The scarcity of labor and lack of a plant for mixing and laying the two inch asphalt wearing surface necessitated contracting this portion of the work. Bids were received ranging in price from $1.50 to $2.25 per square yard, and after looking over work of a similar nature laid by the different contractors, the award was made to Thomas & Murphy, the low bidder.

Washington street from Washington square to Lincoln square on the south side, including the car track, and Broad street from Lincoln square towards East Weymouth, were designated for this work, they being the most heavily travelled streets in town, in poor condition.

The first obstacle that developed was the question of putting in new ties and rails and paving between the tracks on Washington street. Under the law, a street railway is obliged, where a town or city is laying new pavement, to put in the same type of pavement between their tracks and to stand the expense of the same, but in the case of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company, which had just been organized to take over and operate the Bay State System, the Trustees were exempt from this law as well as many others. Conference with the Trustees brought out the fact that the town would be obliged to stand the expense of the pavement between the tracks, and that furthermore the town would have to remove the present surface to the ties before they would lay a new track. It was also learned that they had given up using girder rails and would lay only a four inch "T" rail. It was, therefore, obvious that we could not lay a five inch pavement with only a four inch rail, and to insure a pavement standing up, it would be necessary to put in a concrete foundation between and over the ties and then lay our two inch wearing surface on top. The only concession the Trustees would make was that they would furnish granite pavements to lay as a header on the inside of the rails to protect the asphalt surface. The matter of laying this concrete foundation and grouting in the granite blocks was contracted to Gore, Inc., who had the contract for relaying the track for the railroad. The cost of this work, including the two inch asphalt surface, amounted to $4,128.50, which we had figured the railroad would pay for, and would have done, except for the special exemption given the Trustees by the legislature.

Another item of expense that was necessary on Washington street was for laying of 728 feet of concrete curbing and the re-setting of 660 feet of old granite edge stone. The concrete curbing was contracted to Harry Boutell of Hingham for 62 cents a foot, he being the lowest bidder. Excavating the road surface was contracted to Gore, Inc., for the sum of $1,445.19. After the old surface was excavated to the proper grade, three inches of crushed stone was spread and penetrated with one and one-quarter gallons of Tarvia X to the square yard, then covered with pea stone and thoroughly rolled. Before the wearing surface was placed on this base, traffic was allowed to use the road for several weeks, the idea being that any defects in the foundation would have a chance to develop and be corrected before the wearing surface was applied. It was also found necessary to lay about 560 feet of four inch tile drain mid-way between the car tracks and the sidewalk from Broad street to a catch-basin opposite Richmond street, to take care of the underground water.

At Lincoln square the grade was materially changed so that now the surface water is properly taken care of and a section of track that connected the East Weymouth line with the Rockland line was eliminated. Two catch-basins at Lincoln square were rebuilt and three new ones were constructed on Washington street. The south sidewalk on Washington street was raised from six to ten inches and resurfaced with screened gravel and stone dust. The work of the contractors Thomas & Murphy in laying the wearing surface was most satisfactorily done, they doing many things which were not specified in the contract in order to have the Town satisfied. The same is true of Gore, Inc., and Mr. Boutell.

I would advise that a similar appropriation be made next year for this type of construction. That the north side of Washington street be completed and that the work across Broad street towards Central square be extended. The nature of the present foundation on the north side of Washington street and also across Broad is such that except for one or two short stretches the broken stone foundation course could be safely eliminated if the asphalt concrete top was increased to two and one-half inches. This would reduce the cost considerably and give the same appearance as that laid this year. Had it not been for the unforeseen expense in connection with the railroad track and the cost of laying curbing and sub-drains, the yardage completed (7,485 square yards) would have been much greater. The fact that parts of Summer, Spring, Front, Stetson, Vine, Phillips and Essex streets resurfaced with the old road surface material was quite an item as the material removed was especially good in most cases. Crushed stone used on the job was furnished from our plant at the Plymouth Quarries, and delivered by trucks. Reports from the Massachusetts Highway Commission show that the cost of constructing State roads this past year, cost a little over $30,000 a mile, which shows that even with the extra work connected with this job, the cost was below the state average.

Bates avenue, South Weymouth, was resurfaced the entire length with six inches of crushed stone, laid in two courses, the top course being penetrated with "Tarvia X." This short street for several years has been impassable in the Spring time and the most economical treatment was to put on broken stone, as good gravel is very hard to procure in South Weymouth and costs as much as stone. It was necessary to remove much of the old surface and change the grade so that the surface water would drain properly. The cost of this work, including laying 110 feet of eight inch drain and resurfacing part of the sidewalks, was $1,910.95. 2,010 square yards of tar macadam surface was laid.

The curve on Middle street at the junction of Commercial street was raised about a foot on the outside and a tar macadam surface laid, as it was impossible to maintain this curve with gravel. The last two pieces of work were paid for out of the regular appropriation.

Street Oiling.

The policy of using "Tarvia B" for this work was followed again this year, and the results have been exceptionally good. This was the first year that the abutters have escaped assessment for this work, as it was voted at the March meeting to include the cost of this work in the general tax levy. I believe that this is the most satisfactory plan now that so large a portion of the streets are so treated. Over five and one-third miles more of streets were so treated this year than ever before, so that we now have about thirty-five miles of streets that are so covered. In 1918, 139,505 lineal feet of streets were treated at a cost of $16,389.96. This year 184,805 feet were covered at a cost of $16,448.53. 107,000 gallons of tarvia were used this year as compared to 90,390 gallons in 1918.

The work of applying the tarvia was all done by our own truck distributor, which has proven to be one of the most economical pieces of machinery that the department owns, and to all appearances, it is good for many years more. At the present time the matter of getting out sand for this work is a difficult proposition and the town should take steps to buy a pit in North Weymouth, and also in wards two and three. The town at present owns no pit of its own that is workable, and it is very unsatisfactory to get material from a pit that is open to everybody.

The price of tarvia B, this year, was about two cents a gallon cheaper than in 1918, but, on the other hand, labor and freight rates were considerably higher. Present quotations for tarvia indicate that the 1920 price will advance to ten cents a gallon and that freight rates will also be advanced.

General Repairs and Maintenance.

The open winter the last year with alternate freezing and thawing, caused our gravel roads to break up badly, necessitating the expenditure of more money for this work than ordinarily. The method employed where a road was especially rough, was to scarify the surface with our maintenance roller, then harrow the surface with a heavy spike-tooth harrow, drawn behind a truck and then shape for rolling with a road machine. The surface was then thoroughly rolled and given a coating of screened gravel which was flushed with water and then rolled until compacted. After this surface was thoroughly dried out a blanket coat of tarvia B was applied. The greater portions of our main streets such as Union, Pleasant, Broad, Middle,

North and Commercial, were treated in this way, it being the most practical method with the limited funds available. Oak street was gravelled the entire length and Park street from the Hingham line to a point mid-way between Oak and Pine was likewise resurfaced.

Randolph street from the dam to the old ice house was greatly improved by surface treatment.

Several streets enumerated under Permanent Construction, were resurfaced in ward three with the material removed from Washington street and Broad street. In ward two Middle, Carroll, Essex, Spring, Broad, Pleasant, High, Grant, Hawthorne and Commercial streets were improved by scarifying and gravelling. In ward one part of Neck, Shaw, Wessagusset, Norton, Pearl, Sea and North streets were greatly improved and minor repairs made on several other streets in that district.

Bridges.

With the building of a reinforced concrete bridge over the Herring stream at East Weymouth, the last wooden bridge in Weymouth has been abolished, so that now, with the exception of the amount Weymouth is obliged to pay as its share in the maintenance of the Fore River Bridge, the cost of bridges will be very little.

This bridge was let by contract to J. W. Pratt, he being the low bidder for the sum of $914.00, the town furnishing sand and crushed stone, which made the total cost $996.07. A concrete retaining wall was also built in connection with this bridge, to permit the rounding of the corner at Commercial and Water street.

Department Building.

By a unanimous vote at the special Town meeting held April 17, 1919, $6,000 was appropriated to purchase the H. K. Cushing property on Commercial street. The property is an ideal one for the purpose and large enough to properly house all the department's equipment. We now have a place where machinery can be overhauled and painted and given proper care.

With the exception of re-papering the roof of the main building which has recently been done, no other changes or alterations are needed, and the property is in good condition.

Crusher.

This plant has been operated more successfully this year than for several years, due to the installation of a larger sized crusher. With our old crusher, which was practically worn out, the capacity was about 30 tons a day. We are now able to produce from 75 to 100 tons a day with but very little additional expense for operation. We were able to trade in the old crusher so that the new machine was obtained for $1,000.

The total cost of operating the plant, including setting up the new crusher, labor, electricity, and all repairs was $2,175.39 and 2,257 tons were produced, making the cost per ton 96-plus cents. To buy stone delivered on cars would cost from $2.25 to $2.50 per ton, which shows a considerable saving. The stone was distributed as follows: For general repairs and to individuals 447½ tons; Bates avenue 532 tons, permanent construction 1,050⅔ tons; Thomas & Murphy 124 tons and Herring Brook Bridge 36 tons.

The present bins will have to be renewed this coming season and larger ones should be installed.

Equipment.

In addition to the new crusher, a stone spreader attachment for the truck was purchased for $231.08. With this stone spreader, a truck load of stone can be uniformly spread at any desired depth in about one minute and will do the work of several men.

The Champion Snow Plow that is attached to the front of the truck for breaking out roads and leveling snow has proven to be one of the best pieces of equipment the department owns for snow work, and is greatly appreciated by the traveling public.

During the past week we have purchased two Economy Snow Removers that will greatly facilitate the removal of snow in our squares and also reduce the cost of this work.

Shortage and high cost of labor means that every labor-saving device that is practical should be obtained and I strongly urge the purchase of another truck, as we are handicapped in getting out sand during the oiling season, as the oiling body is then in use. It is also necessary to have two trucks working when the crusher is in operation.

The purchasing of a machine for loading sand, gravel and crushed stone is urgently needed and will more than pay for itself in a short time.

A small concrete mixer for mixing cold patch and material for tar sidewalks is also needed. I would also advise the turning in of the Ford truck for a new one, as this machine has been in use now for about four years.

Birchbrow Avenue.

At the special Town meeting in November, $500 was voted for this street, and the work has been done as far as the appropriation would permit. The loam was removed the entire length and the street graded and gravelled about two-thirds of the way and a sidewalk roughed out on the west side. It will take $500 more, at least, to finish the work, and I would advise its completion this next year.

Recommendations.

I would advise the purchase of such labor saving machines as enumerated under the heading of Equipment, the continuance of a special appropriation for permanent construction, the purchase or lease of one or more gravel pits, erection of new bins for the crusher, and an effort to obtain from the County and State assistance in the construction of a hard surface road on a portion of Union street. The problem of building permanent sidewalks should be taken up again and a little done each year.

PLANNING BOARD

At the conference of the town and city planning boards of the state, held at the State House, December 12th, and at which this board was well represented, emphasis was placed on the desirability of the various town officials and departments making use of the local planning board by submitting to it such matters and measures as amounted to problems to the officials or departments concerned.

The planning board is an agency required by law to exist and is expected to apply its best thought and judgment to such matters affecting present and future public welfare as occasion offers for its consideration. It has no administrative or executive powers and in Weymouth no money is placed at its disposal. Its function is strictly advisory.

Dealing in such general problems as are most conducive to the comfort, convenience and happiness of the people of the town and embracing questions of construction, health, beauty, social and moral welfare, there is scarcely any branch of the town government that may not consistently call upon the planning board for its judgment and co-operation and the more use made of it in this way the more its service can be of value to the town.

The board has held meetings each month except July and August, and from time to time various officials of the town and committees appointed at the last annual meeting have met with it in conference and it is hoped the results have been helpful.

The board unanimously recommends the construction of the proposed Memorial Building—plans of which are now being considered by a special committee.

The Board was organized for the year of Nineteen nineteen, as follows:

WATER COMMISSIONERS' REPORT.

January 1, 1920.

The Board organized on March 17, by the election of Frank H. Torrey as chairman; George E. Bicknell, clerk, and John H. Stetson, Treasurer.

The following appointments were made for the ensuing year:— Superintendent, Fred O. Stevens; engineer at Pumping Station, George W. Sargent; office clerk, Miss Charlotte E. Briggs. At a joint meeting with the Selectmen, Charles B. Cushing was appointed Town Accountant.

As was the case in 1918, what construction was done was paid for from our income, but the coming year it will be necessary to negotiate the loan of $5,000.00 authorized in 1918, as we have accumulated extensions that have been postponed on account of the war conditions.

Our clerk, Miss Charlotte E. Briggs, passed away in the late summer, after more than a quarter-century of continuous service, and we take this occasion to testify to our appreciation of her as a fellow citizen and faithful employee.

We request the following appropriations from our income of the coming year:—

Superintendence, Maintenance and Pumping station	$22,000.00
Commissioners, Office and Current Expenses	5,300.00
Interest on Sinking fund 4 per cent. bonds	1,760.00
Interest on Serial 4½ per cent. bonds	3,375.00
